

MURDER Bones in Well Point to Crime

GHASTLY DISCOVERY MADE AT ELMHURST

CRAZED WOMAN ARISES AT NIGHT; KILLS HERSELF

Cries of Child for Mother Arouses
Father, Who Stumbles Over the Bleeding Corpse.

Mrs. Fannie Price, wife of Jacob Price, residing at 438 Castro street, ended her life last night by cutting her throat with a table knife. Her husband first discovered the tragedy by stumbling over her body in the dark at 1:30 o'clock this morning. Mrs. Price retired at 10:30 last night with her three-year-old boy. Early this morning Price heard the crying and on going into his wife's room stumbled over her body lying on the bedroom floor. Mrs. Price was a native of Germany and aged 32 years. Peter Baker, a next-door neighbor reported the suicide to the police this morning and Policeman Neill was detailed to make an investigation. Body in Pool of Blood. Neill and Sergeant Byrne went to the Price home where they found the woman lying on the floor in a great pool of blood with a terrible slash across her throat. A large table knife was under her head. The rooms, which are upstairs, were in

THE LATE MRS. FANNIE PRICE, WHO COMMITTED SUICIDE WHILE MENTALLY UNBALANCED.

GHOSTS ON ROLLER SKATES MADE MERRY, WOMAN SAYS

HELD CARNIVAL IN WEBSTER STREET HOUSE

Giddy ghosts with a penchant for modern amusement govt their shrouds in the old Spanish grave-yard enter the rooms up-stairs at an alleged ancient haunted house at 1214 Webster street, and from midnight until dawn indulge in tripping the light fantastic on the whirling wheels of roller skates, terrifying the living occupants in the apartments below, according to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Cundie, who summoned the police in their flight from the spooks' wild doings at 2 o'clock this morning. The Cundies are a young bridal couple living with Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cundie, the parents of Mr. Cundie, at 1211 Webster street, in one of the two-story houses which were built in that vicinity in early days. The two families live down stairs, while the upper floor is unoccupied. Mr. and Mrs. Cundie are well known in professional theatrical circles throughout the West as "The Stanleys." Mrs. Cundie said this morning "Ever since we have lived here we have been disturbed from sleep in the morning hours by strange and ludicrous noises. After thorough investigation I am absolutely convinced that this place is haunted. When I finally learned from the police that this house stands on the site of an old Spanish grave yard it was all I needed—that ended it. "Never a midnight passes but the stairs begin to creak stealthily footsteps creep through hall-ways and there are rustling and swishing sounds, as of sweeping silken dresses over the upper floors. "But the high jinks that those ghosts play last night capped their umax I have heard of some important ghosts before, but these were the limit. "As usual all was quiet until midnight. Then the spirit intruders started their fun above our heads. "There was only a light breeze outside but the howling whirling soft but very distinct, on the upper floors. Finally we concluded it sounded like roller skates more than anything else, and my husband went up stairs to investigate. He carried a small lamp in his hand, and as he opened the door to the second landing he felt a cold wave pass over him that chilled him with horror, a wild shriek followed, and then a rush of icy air extinguished the lamp. "We called for the police, and the officers made a thorough search, but no trace of a human being could be found. There were no tracks upstairs, or in the wet earth around the house. The police at last said that the house stood on the site of an old Spanish grave-yard, and that many people in this neighborhood have heard strange tappings and knockings and other ghastly signs in the houses in this vicinity for years past."

HALPRUNER SWEARS TO A DIVORCE COMPLAINT

Dr. Winfield Scott Halpruner, of Elmhurst, whose matrimonial woes have attracted notoriety to the principals involved during the last two months, today swore to a complaint before Attorney A. L. Frick for divorce from Francis Halpruner, naming William H. Chambers a photographer, as "her consort and associate." Chambers is the man who was shot by people can hear it, or to them."

U. S. FLEET IS NOW ON WAY THROUGH STRAITS

Battleships and Torpedo-Boats
Keep Together in Run in Dangerous Water.

PUNTA ARENAS Feb 8 2 a m.—The American battleships accompanied by the torpedo boat flotilla cleared from the harbor at 1 o'clock on their way through the western half of the straits to the Pacific Coast of South America. Through the dangerous channels of the western portion of Magellan straits, navigating with extreme caution until Cape Piliang, the southwesternmost point of the southern side of the strait has been left well behind and the waters of the broad Pacific fairly entered by the American battleship fleet and torpedo boat destroyers still a new channel their remarkable cruise. From Punta Arenas their course lies southward to Cape Froward, the southernmost point of the mainland of South America. From Cape Froward the strait turns and extends 150 miles in a northwesterly direction. After passing Cape Piliang the battleships prove will be turned northward and a course laid along the Chilean coast to a point off Valparaiso and thence to Callao. Lieutenant Combs torpedo boat destroyers will part company with the battleships when Smith Channel thirty miles from the western end of Magellan strait is reached and proceed northward through this channel. They will follow an inside route that will keep the little vessels well protected from heavy weather and also will shorten their voyage to Talcahuano their next stopping place, 2150 knots from Punta Arenas. To Fire Salute. Following closely along the rocky coast of Chile, the battleships in a week's time, will find themselves off Valparaiso. There they will run close into the city and each will fire the national salute of twenty-one guns after which time will continue their voyage to Callao Peru.

PROHIBITION IMPOSSIBLE IN BIG CITIES, SAYS CARDINAL GIBBONS

NEW ORLEANS, Feb 8.—Cardinal Gibbons who is visiting this city, in an interview on prohibition published today said "I am persuaded that it is practically impossible to put prohibition into effect in a large community and the best means therefore to promote temperance is to limit the number of saloons by high licenses. "In the country places I would suggest local option as a means for the repression of intemperance. If in the judgment of the majority of the voters, the sale of liquor should be entirely eliminated. "Laws, like prohibition, that are certain to be violated had best not be made. "Black Hand Members Are Held for Trial. PITTSBURG Feb 8.—The six Italians arrested yesterday in connection with the Black Hand Society operations against wealthy residents of Sewickley Heights, including Richard Quay, son of the late Senator Quay, were today held for trial. W. H. Singer, the artist, one of the men threatened by the society, has closed his home at Sewickley and removed to Pittsburgh.

BODY CHOPPED TO BITS; FLESH EATEN BY QUICKSILVER

What the authorities believe to be the evidence of a murder was uncovered today at Elmhurst when the chopped bones of a human skeleton from which the flesh had been eaten by quicksilver, was uncovered at Sixth and Kinsel avenue. The bones had been cut in several places so that the remains could be piled in a heap. They had been licked clean of flesh by the lime, evidences of which still remained in the ground. No cloth or anything else by which the body might be identified was found with the bones, as the lime had done its work effectually. The bones were found today while builders were at work on an excavation for a foundation for a new house. They were unearthed about three feet below the surface and Murphy & Rohde, deputy coroners, were summoned. They have not fully determined so far, owing to the chopped condition of the bones whether the slain person was a man or a woman, but from their investigation they feel certain murder was committed. The flesh

FOUND GUILTY OF STEALING LANDS

PORTLAND Ore Feb 8.—Former United States District Attorney John H. Hall indicted for conspiracy with the Butte Creek Land Lumber and Lumber Company, to maintain an illegal fence which enclosed 20,000 acres of public land in Wheeler county, was today found guilty. The trial has been in progress since January 13 and has been bitterly fought by both sides. Three hours and ten minutes after receiving the instructions of Judge Hunt last night the jury arrived at a decision and at 10:30 o'clock this morning a sealed verdict was returned. This was opened at 10 o'clock this morning.

SHOOTS AT ROBBER, WHO HAD HELD UP FIVE MEN

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb 8.—Three shots fired in rapid succession at 1 o'clock this morning from the revolver of Policeman Peter Hinrich, stayed the hand of a masked and armed highwayman, who had the barkeeper and four customers in Burns Johnson's saloon at Eighth and Market streets standing with their faces to the wall and their hands high in the air. The glare of the bright lights in the barroom had a tendency to blind the officer, who fired at the masked highwayman just after stepping from the dark street. This made his aim defective and in the cloud of smoke that followed the explosion of every cartridge, the robber dashed out of the back door, through which he had entered, and made his escape. Frank Lukenson the barkeeper, was serving four customers when the door was thrown open and a man stepped into the room. Over his features was drawn a white handkerchief and he carried a revolver in his hand. "Move hand or foot or make an outcry and someone of you will go to the morgue," warned the masked man. All obeyed when he commanded them to march to the wall and stand with backs toward him. The robber was preparing to commence his work of searching his victims when Policeman Hinrich entered.

In line with its usual spirit of progress THE TRIBUNE tomorrow will offer some new features which are to be continued and improved from time to time. The world's great newspaper artists in color—the greatest of American fun-makers will contribute each week. Four full pages of artistic, up to date and beautiful color work.

TOMORROW
SUNDAY TRIBUNE

YOUR paper tomorrow will contain a new departure in specialized features. The great Walt Macdougall's comic page. An illustrated story for boys by President Roosevelt—Mrs. Symes' page for women—Marian Harlan tells about cooking. In addition to these, color features, cable pages, special stories by special writers and a great offering for the women readers.

THE TRIBUNE SCORES VICTORY IN LIBEL SUIT FILED BY SPRECKELS

Court Ruling Precludes Plaintiff From Proving Any Special Damage or Direct Loss Whatsoever.

The point in dispute in the suit brought by the First National Bank against THE TRIBUNE PUBLISHING COMPANY and heard by Judge Melvin yesterday involved the determination of the meaning of plaintiff's amended complaint so far as special damages were concerned. The defendant, being uncertain as to whether plaintiff could claim special damages under the peculiar language of its complaint, decided to take the deposition of one of the officers of the bank and by questioning him as to particular items of possible special damage to the bank, to which questions it was certain an objection would be made by counsel for the plaintiff, obtain an immediate decision by the court as to whether it would permit evidence of special damage to be admitted upon the trial in behalf of the plaintiff corporation under the allegations of its complaint, and thus enable THE TRIBUNE to prepare for its defense. This counsel has accomplished and the court, in holding that the question asked of the witness, Moffitt, in effect ruled, that the plaintiff would not be entitled to show upon the trial any damage or loss to its business of any kind or character whatsoever by reason of said alleged libelous publication.

Counsel for defendant, while fully aware that Mr. Wheeler, in his argument yesterday, admitted that the plain-iff was not entitled to special damages under the allegations of its complaint, nevertheless, believing that counsel for plaintiff might take a contrary position in the matter upon the trial and was merely seeking for the present to avoid an investigation into the affairs of the bank, offered to withdraw the disputed questions. If counsel for plaintiff would agree to enter into a stipulation, binding upon the plaintiff, to the effect that plaintiff would not hereafter endeavor, under the present amended complaint, to offer evidence of special damage, this Mr. Wheeler, after much hesitation, declined to do, which was in itself, evidence of an intention to take a contrary position hereafter, and to offer evidence of special damage upon the trial.

The court, however, effectively disposed of the whole matter to the satisfaction of the defendant by putting such a judicial construction upon the amended complaint as to preclude the plaintiff from ever proving any special damage or direct loss whatsoever. Therefore, THE TRIBUNE scored a great victory and point by putting plaintiff into such a position that it cannot hereafter show that it suffered by reason of the publication of the article alleged to be libelous, any loss of profits, loss of depositors, loss of deposits or the direct loss of a single dollar.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS WILL AID SEAMEN'S REST

LITERARY PROGRAM ARRANGED FOR BENEFIT

Young People of M. E. Church
Will Take Part in Jerome Farce.

On Friday evening, February 14, the Christian Endeavor Society of the First M. E. Church, will give an entertainment in the C. J. Armory at Eleventh and Market streets, for the benefit of the Seamen's Rest. The young people have been preparing for weeks, under the direction of Mabel F. Allen, and will give a most delightful and entertaining program.

"Sinner's One-act Play" by Jerome K. Jerome, is itself worth the admission charge to see in this worthy cause. The happy, glib confidences, mirth-provoking situations, and strong values of a sinner's self-sacrifice, will keep rapt attention from the first to the last.

Perilla, a Statue Costume Impersonation, by Miss Josephine Ferra, and Rosalind, a "Sinner's" sparkling monologue with a strong dramatic climax, by Miss E. M. Friday, together with a one act play, entitled "Sowing the Seed," will be given with situations and happy ending, make up the literary part of the evening's entertainment.

The musical features are a violin solo by Miss Nelson and the orchestra.

MABEL ALLEN.

$200,000 IS PAID FOR BIG SAN LEANDRO TRACT

Frank K. Mott Company have completed an important transaction in the sale to Bred & Bancroft, for about $200,000, of the Dowling property, consisting of about 10 acres of the finest land in Alameda county, located this side of San Leandro on the electric car line and in the path of the proposed extension, with electric power, of the Southern Pacific local line from Melrose.

The sellers are members of the Dowling family, who have owned the property for many years. Considerable interest is shown by those who have known of the progress of this matter to learn what steps Bred & Bancroft will take in the improvement of the property.

INDIAN OUTLAW AT BAY IN NARROW CANYON, WHERE SNOW LIES WAIST DEEP

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) BUTTE, Mont., Feb. 8.—A returning posseman from the scene of the man hunt in the mountains near Cascade before that slayer, the Indian outlaw and alleged murderer of Robert Holmes, had been located in a steep and almost impenetrable gulch, known as Klondike Coulee, one of the most rugged places of snow in Montana.

The snow is waist deep and the possemen were able to travel little faster than a crawl. Two men hunters from Cascade detected the odor of frying bacon close to the entrance of Klondike canyon. The entrance to the canyon was so narrow at this point that the men did not dare enter the defile, but hastened back to Cascade to notify the officers of their discovery.

A posse in the mountains near Stickney came upon a cabin from which smoke was issuing. The deputies at first were going to fire a volley into the structure, but the guides restrained them. Calling loudly for whoever was in the cabin to come out, two boys, twelve years old, looked their heads out of the door to tell the deputies that they, too, were after Mosney in hope of earning the reward. The boys were armed with a fish pole and a 22-caliber rifle.

REAR ADMIRAL ACKLEY RETIRED, PASSES AWAY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Rear Admiral Seth M. Ackley, U. S. N., retired, died here last evening, aged 63 years.

HARRIET BEHNEE TO SING SUZUKI

Vernon Stiles Plays Pinkerton in Puccini's "Madame Butterfly."

Miss Harriet Behnee, the contralto from the Berlin Royal Opera, who sings the exacting role of Suzuki in Puccini's Japanese opera, "Madame Butterfly," is another American girl who has achieved success abroad on the operatic stage. Her first studies were with Arthur Chassan, leader of the New York Liederkreis. Later, as a protegee of the late William Steinway, she went to Germany to study music under Reinhold Hermann and Madame Ress, after which she became a pupil of Professor Emmenich and Marie Lehman.

Miss Behnee had intended to make her American debut in Savage's "Parsifal" company, but the Breslau management refused to release her. In addition to a deep contralto voice of velvet richness, she is gifted with fine histrionic talent, both of which are supremely essential for the role of the pretty Japanese maid of Madame Butterfly. "Madame Butterfly" will be presented at the Macdonough Theater on Monday afternoon and night. Vernon Stiles, the well known tenor, will take the part of Pinkerton.

GINGERBREAD MAN

Sixty-Two People in Cast of Musical Comedy.

"The Gingerbread Man" will be presented by Niles & Zimmerman at the Macdonough Theater tomorrow afternoon and evening. Margaret Savory, who portrays Maile, a confectioner's salesgirl, who was transformed by an evil genius into a sugar plum, and respectively into a princess, is famous in two continents for her beauty. Her song, "That Beautiful Land of Bon Bon," was the song hit of the last musical season in New York City. Others in the cast are Evelyn Frances Kellogg, Mabel Day, Nellie Cole, Fred J. Nice, Garret Marjor, Ross Snow, James McElhenn, Percy Maklan, Lute Vrohman, Bert Lovey and a vast concourse of beautiful girls, making a complete organization of sixty-two people.

PILES CURED IN 5 TO 14 DAYS.
FAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of itching, blind, bleeding or protruding piles in 5 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

SCALDED; ACTOR CONTINUES PLAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—True Boardman, leading man at the Central Theater, was severely burned about the left leg while dressing for the performance last evening.

Although in great pain, Boardman went through with the hero's part in the melodrama, "Deadwood Dick's Last Shot," and as soon as the performance was over went to the Central Emergency Hospital to have his wound dressed. Boardman's valet tripped over the actor's foot while carrying a pitcher of boiling water, spilling the entire contents over Boardman's leg. It was at first thought he would have to have the injury attended to before the play commenced, but he refused to delay the performance and no one of the audience suspected for a minute that he was suffering.

FABIOLA SOON TO HAVE NEW ANNEX

The Fabiola Hospital Association held its annual election of officers and business meeting yesterday and the reports showed a very successful year. Over eighteen hundred patients have been cared for at the hospital and among the notable improvements mentioned was the new heating plant. It is expected that ground will be broken in a few days for the new annex.

A great deal of enthusiasm was developed over the benefit card tournament to take place February 19 under the management of Mrs. Mark Requa, assisted by eighty society women. The children's sunshine pavilion for which the party is planned is now half completed and the funds earned at the card party will be devoted to the building of this department.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. John Yule; first vice-president, Mrs. Remi Chabot; second vice-president, Mrs. David Eastbrook; third vice-president, Mrs. Isaac Requa; treasurer, Mrs. Q. A. Chase; recording secretary, Mrs. A. Schilling; financial secretary, Mrs. A. D. Wilson; assistant, Mrs. John Shuey; auditors, Mrs. R. W. McChesney, Mrs. George Dornin and Mrs. Hugh Hogan.

The directors are Mrs. Remi Chabot, Mrs. Q. A. Chase, Mrs. A. Schilling, Mrs. Isaac Requa, Mrs. Wallace Everson, Mrs. Hugh Hogan, Mrs. A. D. Wilson, Mrs. John Shuey, Mrs. R. W. McChesney, Mrs. David Eastbrook and Mrs. John Yule.

GOVERNOR PARDONS
THIRTY YEAR CONVICT
SACRAMENTO, Feb. 8.—L. L. Callendine, sentenced in August, 1896, to 30 years' imprisonment in the Folsom penitentiary was today pardoned by the governor on account of good behavior. Callendine had been released on parole by Governor Parsons.

VERNON STILES

ROOSEVELT BOOM STARTS IN THE QUAKER CITY

Philadelphians Prepare Monster Petition Asking Him to be a Candidate.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 8.—Gathering in size like a rolling snowball, a third term boom for President Roosevelt has started in Philadelphia. It is in the form of a petition asking him again to accept a nomination for the presidency. It is offered to him, and within two hours after it became known that such a petition was being forwarded more than 2500 had placed their names on the list of petitioners.

The petition was prepared and a notice placed in the window of a Chestnut street store, asking the public to join in the movement. The petition reads in part:

"To his excellency, Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States: We, the undersigned, citizens of the State of Pennsylvania, having a full appreciation of your efforts in behalf of the United States, and believing that your continued refusal to accept the nomination for President for a full term will result in retarding if not entirely stopping the excellent work so far carried on by you in our behalf, hereby earnestly petition and request that you allow your name to be used as a candidate for President at the coming presidential election.

"In thus petitioning you we have in mind the reasons you have assigned for declining to allow your name to be used at the coming convention, but feel that the benefits to be derived by the country and its citizens from your continuance in office so far outweigh the objections made by you, that the office you hold should be regarded as held in trust for all citizens, which trust you should not surrender so long as your work is incomplete and a substantial number of citizens desire its retention."

G. A. R. COMRADES TO SPEAK FEB. 12

Henry H. Woodruff, patriotic lecturer of Appomattox Post No. 50, G. A. R., has announced his detail of comrades and members of the Woman's Relief Corps to visit schools and address the pupils at 1 o'clock on the ninety-ninth anniversary of the birth of President Abraham Lincoln on February 12. Following is the list: Commander, Captain W. R. Thomas, Fremont school; Past Commander, C. W. Rust and Comrade Bryant Campbell, Durant school; Past Commander, Samuel M. Carr, Sweet school; J. L. Murphy and Mrs. Starbuck, Grant school; J. M. Briggs, Garfield school; Past Commander W. R. Batten, Alameda school; Michael Sullivan, Lockwood school; Frederick Klinger, Dewey school; William Brady, Lower Fruitvale school; Past Commander John H. Morrice, and Past President W. R. C. Mrs. Munson, Lincoln school; H. H. Woodruff, Upper Fruitvale and Melrose schools; Mrs. Williams, W. R. C., Upper Fruitvale and Melrose schools; Cyrus Ellis and Mrs. Arloff, Clawson school; Past President W. R. C., Mrs. Wells, Emerson and Clawson schools; Comrade T. H. Merkle and Mrs. Matta, W. R. C., Franklin school; J. L. Lyon and Mrs. Jacobs, W. R. C., Cole school; Mrs. Emily Nichols, Peralta school; Miss Eva Darling, W. R. C., San Leandro and Hayward schools; Mrs. Mary Morrin and Mrs. Miller, Washington school.

The program of the evening was as follows: Found table, "The Relation of the Public to the Socialist Movement," Cameron H. King Jr.; paper of the evening, "The Petty of Socialism," George Sterling; reading, "The Song of Man" (Anonymous); Johannes Reimers; songs "The Payne Marcellaine" (Edward B. Payne), Ruskin Club; "Stanos on Freedom" (James Russell Lowell); "No Master" (William Morris); "A Hymn of Brotherhood" (Harry Dumont), Ruskin Club; college songs.

After the program A. L. Tuttle of Stanford University made a member. Those present were:

Stanford University—Professor H. A. Miles, J. David Houser, Bruce Elvin, Peter Sinclair, Sydney Hilliard, Albert Leon Tuttle, Arthur Lee Munger, Charles Reining, F. W. Weymouth.

University of California—A. E. Anderson, E. W. Barnhart, Edgar S. Smith, Max Stern, Wilmer M. Scott, G. Mukerji, I. M. Gordin, Delos Mace, John C. Empson, L. T. Jenkins, Lewis McSpadden.

California College—President A. A. Maccurry, Professor Eugene Gaidner, Rev. Robert Waltaker.

Other guests and club members—George Sterling, Helmar George Scherf, Eugene Edward B. Payne, Dr. Coulson Turnbull, Halvor Jauch, Charles E. Koyes, Cameron H. King Jr., R. Steiner, T. P. D. Gray, John Harriman, Clifford Trajer, E. E. Kirk, Dr. F. A. Lacey, A. Q. Lombard, D. L. Lyon, O. P. Sarrai, F. J. Morgan, F. C. Calvert, Albert Smoot, Anna Denison, Frederick I. Bamford, Carl Hoffman, F. C. Russell, J. Hugo Smith, Harry Hammond, Alce Newman, Elbert A. Huggill, W. A. Rattry, Frederick W. Reiland.

Thousands Are Sick
With the grip, colds, fevers, rheumatism, neuralgia. Many might be well if they had only taken Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier and health-regulating medicine. It is a wonderful preventive as well as a cure. Keep it in your house and take it.

Never Without Hood's.—"I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla for indigestion and recommend it to others for that complaint. It is an excellent medicine and I keep it on hand."—A. S. HAZEN, Adams Centre, N. H.

Kidney Trouble.—"I had kidney trouble. A friend recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla. I tried one bottle and found it was better. Took three more and recovered."—BENJ. LEVINE, 30 Village Street, Boston, Mass.

Jaundice.—"I had a severe case of jaundice and fell from 145 to 90 lbs. in weight. A friend advised taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and when I had taken three bottles was up and on my feet."—JOSEPH LEWIS, 19 Alpine Street, Boston, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold everywhere. In the usual liquid, or in tablet form called Sarsapills. 100 Doses One Dollar. Prepared only by C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

U. S. SAILORS ARE PROFESSIONAL MURDERERS, DECLARES RICHARDSON

Excitement Created at Underwriters' Meeting

"The United States should have twice as many teachers in its schools as it now has and they should be paid twice as much for their services as they now receive."

"Our people here are going to spend $240,000 entertaining a mob of professional murderers—men and officers whose chief use is to kill. It would reflect greater credit on us if we should turn this money to a humane use, by properly caring for the teachers."

James P. Richardson created a sensation at a big meeting of the Financial Underwriters, held in the Merchants' Exchange last night, when he gave vent to the above statements.

Charlman Naph B. Greenfelder, with difficulty quelled the resulting demonstration, when a crowd of speakers excitedly jumped to their feet and in one voice started in to defend the men of the U. S. Navy whom Richardson had denounced as "professional murderers."

This outburst was merely the climax of several strained and exciting situations which grew out of a peaceful lecture on the workings of what is known as the "school savings bank system," delivered by Walter G. Seaborn, of Berkeley.

Seaborn, who has investigated the results of the operation of this system in over one hundred schools in the United States, said in part:

"To raise the standard of citizenship to its highest level should be the earnest and sincere desire of every true American. This is the prime object of the system. To train the child to save methodically, by means of actual practice, to familiarize him with our banking institutions, and financial system, and to teach him the habits of intelligent thrift and a true knowledge of the value of money is to make him a better citizen, a more efficient and happier man."

"The idea originated among the French, who are noted the world over for their thrift and frugality. The movement spread rapidly to Belgium and Germany, where it was extremely successful. About 1885 it was introduced in the school department of Long Island City, New York, by the prominent educator, J. H. Thibry. Since that time it has grown steadily in this country, until the school savings bank system is now in operation in 1099 schools in 22 States of America. Since its introduction the scholars have saved to July 1, 1907, $7,437,781, about half of which has been disbursed. During the last of 1907 it was inaugurated in a large number of cities and towns and the movement is growing rapidly.

"In this progressive age our educators are realizing that a large amount of practical education is absolutely necessary. I believe, therefore, that we should teach the child very early in life the things which will help and facilitate him in solving the problems of our higher and more complex civilization.

New Methods.

Methods of education are changing and improving. We have placed manual training and the arts in our schools, and the hand and eye of the child to the useful, symmetrical and beautiful. We teach the child to read, write and compute, and besides this we would give him an education which will help him to avoid peripatry and attain real happiness in after life by habits which lead to temperance, virtue and righteousness.

"It is a common complaint among teachers that the children throw their money away upon cheap confectionery and cigarettes, and spend their money upon things which enervate them both physically and morally.

"The system is as follows: On the morning of the collection, which is properly Monday, by a short talk, a story, or other means the teacher should point out the benefits of thrift, economy and good habits to the children, and as the roll is called by the teacher, the child responds, 'present' five cents' or whatever the amount may be, or simply takes the money to the teacher without reply. She marks the amount on a school savings bank card opposite the proper date, fills out a card which represents a small bank book, in the child's name, places the sum also in his right in a small book called the teacher's ledger, and gives the card into the child's keeping. The card is always in possession of the pupil as a memorandum and receipt. If the child has no deposit, he simply says, 'present.'

Explains System.

"The administration of the system occupies not more than ten minutes per week. When the teacher has completed the roll the money is placed in an envelope marked with the amount, sealed and with the teacher's ledger conveyed to the principal or the principal collects them during the day.

"The bank then sends a messenger to collect the money and teacher's ledgers from the various schools and the bank at once deposits the money in a large number of systems in the community. It is general, however, to allow one cent or upward to be deposited, interest payable January 1st and July 1st. Deposits at five dollars or over may bear interest at the rate of 2 per cent per annum. Money may be withdrawn at stated hours on certain days from the banks, during which a clerk is detailed to wait upon the little depositors, but the bank should require the signature of the parent, guardian or principal before allowing money to be withdrawn."

GOOD TO CLEAN IMPURE BLOOD

Relieves Blood Disorders by Restoring the Kidneys and Cures Rheumatism.

All medical authorities are agreed that the blood is the great source of disease or of health in the human system. If the blood is pure the individual is strong and healthy. If the blood is impure or diseased then there is sickness or decay in the whole system.

Rheumatism is strictly a blood disease. It is caused by excessive uric acid. Sores, pimples, etc., mean bad blood. Catarrhal affections must be treated through the blood to get permanent results. To get well, to feel strong, healthy, and vigorous one must have clean blood and lots of it. You can't clean the blood thoroughly unless the kidneys are made active. Bad blood means clogged, inactive kidneys and liver which causes, too, such symptoms as backache, nervousness, bladder and urinary difficulties and other sympathetic troubles.

Here is a simple home remedy and the recipe for making it up is as follows: Fluid Extract, Kankaidon, one-half ounce, Compound Kankaidon, one ounce, Compound Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime. The ingredients can be obtained at any good prescription pharmacy at small cost.

Here the readers of this paper have a simple yet powerful and effective remedy for all forms of blood, kidney and bladder diseases which should relieve rheumatism and catarrhal affections and replace that weak, worn-out, indifferent feeling with strength, vigor and health.

2 Robbers Hold Up Freight Train Crew

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Two masked armed men boarded a through freight train on the Chicago and Alton Railroad in the outskirts of Chicago early today, robbed and brakeman, conductor and a stock man and made their escape. The robbers started to climb over the car roofs toward the engine, but were attacked by their victims. In the struggle one of the robbers fell from the moving train and the other leaped after him.

MRS. G. MELVIN'S DAMAGE SUIT STARTED IN COURT

Wants $6000 Satisfaction for Blasting Annoyance.

The trial of the $6000 damage suit brought by Mrs. Georgina Melvin against the E. B. and A. L. Stone Company was begun today before Judge Elsworth. A jury is now being secured.

Mrs. Melvin, who is a sister-in-law of Superior Judge Melvin, says that her home, at 811 East Twenty-second street, was much injured by blasting operations conducted by the company. In 1904 the defendants began quarrying rock from the hill on which Mrs. Melvin's home stands. So severe were the shocks, she declares, that the oors shook and the whole house rocked. Senator G. Russ, Lukens represents her, and Reed, Black and Reed the E. B. and A. L. Stone Company.

COLDS CAUSE HEADACHE
LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE removes the cause. Used the world over to cure a Cold in One Day. E. W. Grove's signature on box. 25c.

FREE LABOR BUREAU OF RELIEF SOCIETY

The Daughters of Israel Relief Society have opened a free labor bureau at 508 Broadway. Any applicant that may come to your notice, if sent to the above address from 10 to 12 o'clock each morning, will be assisted. Telephone 682.

Too Risky
"A hard chill, pain through the chest, difficult breathing." If this should be your experience, send for your doctor. It may be pneumonia! To doctor yourself would be too risky. If your doctor cannot come at once, give Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. When he comes, tell him you used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house.

Paraiso Hot Springs

GRANDEST AND MOST ACCESSIBLE OF ALL RESORTS

WINTER CLIMATE PERFECT

Our wonderful natural hot soda and Sulphur Baths and Waters are a positive cure for rheumatism, malaria, liver, kidney and all stomach troubles. Iron and Arsenic Waters.

Rates $10.00 to $12.00. Baths free. Expert masseurs. Waters awarded first prize at St. Louis Exposition. Come now. Weather beautiful. Send for booklet.

H. H. MCGOWAN, Paraiso, Monterey County, Cal.

The Tribune's Proverb Hunt

Turn to page 12 and see how simple and easy it will be to solve Picture No. 4, as well as those to follow.

VALUABLE PRIZES for subscribers sending in the nearest correct answers

Only One "BROMO QUININE" that is Laxative Bromo Quinine
Cure Cold in One Day, Cures Cough in 2 Days

—CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE.

JUDGE STETSON TO SPEAK BEFORE STARR KING CLUB

MRS. LILLIAN SWALE.

MISS SWALE TO BE ON PROGRAM

Several Talented People to Appear Before Well Known Fraternity.

The regular meeting of the Starr King Fraternity will be held Thursday evening in Wendt Hall, where an interesting program will be given. Judge John W. Stetson, speaker of the evening, will discuss the direct primary law.

Miss Lillian Swale, the well-known dramatic reader, will give child impersonations. Miss Fern Frost, the talented young pianist, is scheduled to give a few songs. Miss Emmabelle Hudson Zuckerman arranged the program. S. E. Coleman, president of the club, will act as chairman of the evening.

PROSPECTORS RUSH TO GOLD FIND IN AUTOS

Ore Discovered Valued at $50,000 Per Ton.

RENO, Nev., Feb. 8.—Every rent automobile in Reno and vicinity was used yesterday by prospectors who learned of the Mackintosh Brothers' sensational gold discovery near Lovelock, Nev. The boomers chartered the motors and started in a mad race across the desert east of here.

The Mackintoshes found the rich ore last Saturday, but kept the discovery a secret until they had staked all the ground surrounding it that looked as though it might contain the ledge. Then one of the brothers, wishing to help a friend, allowed the report to reach this city. In two hours the rush was on. For eighty miles the machines tore over the roads and tonight samples of the "picture" rock are being displayed in the barrooms. The gold is said to be valued at $50,000 to the ton.

SPAGHETTI HOUSE IS WRECKED BY A BOMB

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 8.—The explosion of a bomb wrecked the front of the spaghetti manufacturing establishment of Vito Viti and brother, Italians, at 45 Biddle street, early today. The Viti brothers and their families, living in the upper floors, were not injured. Vito says that he has no known enemies and is at a loss to account for the explosion.

REFORMERS WAGING WAR AGAINST POLICE

STOCKTON, Feb. 8.—The reform element, headed by the committee of fifty, which has been waging war against the saloons, appears to have turned its attention to the police department and towards deposing Chief of Police Briere and installing Police Commissioner Haley in the position.

It is not believed that Chief Briere can be ousted.

JELL-O
The Dainty Dessert

REPAIRED INSTANTLY. Simply add boiling water, cool and serve. No per package at 10¢. 7 flavors. Refuse all substitutes.

PARKER'S
HAIR BALM

PLANNED TO ROB OAKLAND SALOONS

Safe Crackers Under Arrest in Stockton Had Diagrams of Local Business Houses.

The local police are in receipt of a communication from the Stockton officials that Frank Ellis, alias Masterman, the safe-cracker who was shot down and captured while robbing a saloon in the Slough city, had in his possession a small book containing diagrams of saloons and business houses in San Francisco and Oakland. It being presumed that he was to make these cities a visit in the near future. His capture prevented this move, he admitting that if he had succeeded in getting out of Stockton he had extensive plans for future work in the bay cities.

Ellis is said to be the most desperate man ever in the hands of the Stockton police. Last night he picked the lock on the chain which held him fast to the cot in the hospital where he was treated for his bullet wound and was about to make his escape when he was apprehended by a nurse. He was then removed to the county jail in Stockton for safe keeping.

GIRL WOULD DIE RATHER THAN RETURN TO HOME

15-Year-Old Stella A. Perry Threatens Suicide if Forced to Go Back.

Rather than return to the home of her parents, for whom she shows a remarkable lack of love, little Stella A. Perry, fifteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Perry, of San Lorenzo avenue, San Leandro, informed Judge Waste yesterday that she would kill herself.

Two weeks ago she ran away from home. She was found after ten days at the home of her married sister, Mrs. Marguerite A. Pines, the wife of Charles H. Pines, on Deakin street, in Berkeley. Her father, aided by a police officer, took possession of the girl and she was forcibly removed to the home of her parents.

Then Mrs. Pines filed a petition for the guardianship of the girl, in which she alleged that Mr. and Mrs. Perry had cruelly beaten the child and were not fit persons to have her custody. The guardianship matter was called before Judge Waste yesterday afternoon. When court convened the parents of the girl presented an answer in which they alleged that their married daughter and her husband were not proper persons. Judge Waste, before hearing any testimony in the case, called Stella Perry into his chambers and had a long talk with her.

"There is something wrong somewhere," he said, upon resuming the bench, "but I cannot say just what it is. The little girl has told me that she will do what I advised and for a few days I am going to ask her to go where she will not be near either her mother or father or her sister."

Judge Waste then directed Miss A. D. Porter of the Associated Charities to assume custody of the girl. No one is to be allowed to see her or converse with her without permission from the court or Miss Porter.

When she went out of the court the girl kissed her sister, but had no caress for either her father or mother. The case is to be called in court for further consideration next Thursday.

SAYS WIFE CHASED HIM FROM HIS HOME

That his wife, Josephine, threatened to kill him, and did chase him out of their Elmhurst home with a gun, are allegations of cruelty that J. A. Copes, a real estate man, makes against her. He has filed an answer to her suit for divorce in which he makes these allegations. Furthermore, Copes says, Mrs. Copes displayed too much affection for Frank Saunders, an East Oakland bartender.

Henry C. Churchill has been granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from Amelia M. Churchill upon the grounds of extreme cruelty. Melissa Van Wener has been given an interlocutory decree from E. Van Wener, who deserted her. Caroline V. Parker has been granted a final decree from Edwin C. Parker, and given permission to resume her maiden name of Fletcher. Mary C. Costa has brought suit to secure a divorce from John Costa, alleging desertion.

SECRETARY CORTELYOU AT N. Y. CUSTOM HOUSE

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou, who came to New York from Washington last night, spent some time at the Custom House today. There he held an extended conference with Collector Fowler and other customs officials.

"77" Seventy-seven For Colds and GRIP

Humphrey's "Seventy-Seven" meets the exigency of the prevailing epidemic of Grip, with all its symptoms of Influenza, Catarrh, pains and soreness in the head and chest, cough, sore throat, general prostration and fever.

Taken during its prevalence, it preoccupies the system and prevents its invasion, taken while suffering from it, relief is speedily realized and a complete cure assured. All Druggists sell "77," most druggists recommend it. 25

LUKENS' CAMPAIGN FOR RENOMINATION LAUNCHED

VOTERS PROMISE TO GIVE SUPPORT

Many Prominent Citizens Take Part in Initial Meeting to Aid Senator.

There was an enthusiastic meeting of leading Republicans of the Fifteenth Senatorial District last evening in one of the rooms of the building of the Realty Syndicate on Broadway, for the purpose of taking the initiative in the movement to secure the renomination and the election of Senator G. R. Lukens to the position of Senator, which place Lukens has held for the past eight years.

All those present were men who have had a great deal to do in the conduct of campaigns in this county. They were thoroughly representative of the various sections of the Senatorial district. All were enthusiastic in the matter in hand and each promised to leave nothing undone to secure the accomplishment of the purpose for which they had gathered.

Among those in attendance were Judge H. A. Melvin, George W. Reed, District Attorney Brown, E. F. Lynch, Frank Fletcher, Edson F. Adams, Dr. A. K. Crawford, George F. Neece, Hart H. North, E. F. Folger, J. Cal Ewing, W. W. Garthwaite, E. N. Walter, John P. Cook, George Pierce, Hugh Hogan and Fred Stratton.

There will be another meeting Sunday next after the noon hour and, at that meeting, it is expected that an executive committee will be appointed which will have charge of the conduct of the campaign.

SENATOR G. R. LUKENS.

POLICE 'PINCH' ELKS AT CLUB

DR. C. L. TISDALE.

Whole Crowd Arrested and Then the Merry Laughs Goes the Rounds.

There was a bulldog and badger fight at the Elks' quarters last Thursday night and the house was "pinched." Bankers, lawyers, doctors and business men, prominent and supposedly law-abiding, were gathered in the meshes of the law when Detective Hodgkins and three policemen raided the place and placed them under arrest for attending a brutal and illegal exhibition.

It was all planned carefully ahead by a few of the most practical of the jokers among the Elks. The tip was passed quietly around that there would be something doing Thursday evening that was just a bit off color. It would be lively, the tip went, but it was not exactly proper, so the greatest secrecy had to be maintained.

"Don't let on," was the warning given. "There's only a few there and it's no something choice."

Rooms Were Crowded.

Some had hopes of a hula-hula, and they went; some thought it might be a private boxing exhibition, and they stuck around on Thursday night; some others had no definite hope in the matter, but they knew that something naughty was going to be pulled off and they attended. The place was filled.

There was a pit made for the animals to fight in. Billy Neill's bulldog, savage and tugging at his chain, was in one end of it. At the other end was a tin-lined box with a trap door, out of which ran a rope.

"It's a badger," said those who were in charge. Exalted Ruler Tisdale, assisted by a few able lieutenants, prepared to pull off the affair.

The true sports present crowded around and bets were made on the result. But a few of the more conservative members remembered their reputations, thought of the police, of notoriety that would be unpleasant, and wished they were home.

"Suppose the news of this gets out," they whispered among themselves, and cold perspiration beaded their brows.

Loud Rap at Door.

Just as Master-of-Ceremonies Tisdale was about to order the gong rung for the first round there was a knock on the door. It was a loud and authoritative rap, and a panic arose. The knock was repeated.

"Open the door," said a loud voice. It was opened and Hodgkins and the police walked in.

"Gentlemen, you are all under arrest," he said, and he ordered his men to guard the doors.

Some tried to get out, but they were turned back. Dr. Mehrmann tried to make his way through a window, but Charlie Heeseman had tied the same window, and they stuck. Under Sheriff J. J. Hanlin Jr. tried to hide in a closet. Henry Leftmann attempted to get under a table and found that there were three or four others there. There was a general scurry and flurry.

Tisdale offered to compromise, but Hodgkins was firm. "I have to obey my orders," he said. Finally, however, he agreed to hold a conference with a committee, which retired.

Soon the committee came back. Tisdale said: "If we are going to be arrested again, let the fight go on. Pull the badger out."

RUSSIAN LEADER MAY BE CENSURED

St. Petersburg Press "Roasts" Professor Who Started Agitation.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 8.—The demonstration which took place in the Duma yesterday against Professor Paul Minkoff, leader of the Constitution Democrats, arising from the ill-feeling created here by his recent lecture in New York on the political situation in Russia, suggests the attention of the entire press of this city, which today united in deploring an incident which tended to fan partisan enmity and endanger the chances of the Duma's success. The occurrences of yesterday probably will be followed up by a formal resolution censuring Professor Minkoff for lack of patriotism and unparliamentary conduct in visiting a foreign country to stir up a sentiment of hostility while occupying a responsible position in parliament.

In some quarters Professor Minkoff is advised to resign and seek vindication at the hands of his constituents, but this he has declined to do and he has announced his intention of insisting that the report of the commission of national defense, at which strategic questions will be discussed, be read at a closed session of the Duma. Upon American initiative a party of Australian Liberal journalists is being organized to visit the United States to continue the movement begun by Professor Minkoff. The oppositional press of St. Petersburg, Moscow, Kiev and Odessa has been invited to send delegates, but the conservative newspapers have not been asked to participate.

THE MAN WITH THE PEN

Is Mightier Than the Merchant Without One.

Correctly illustrated advertisements or printed matter if you made THE TRIBUNE Art Department make your drawings. You have an idea, why not illustrate it? Consult our Art Department for new ideas. The man with the pen can give you the right assistance. Only high-class artists employed. THE TRIBUNE Art Department, Eighth and Franklin Sts.

DANISH BROTHERHOOD FILES ITS ARTICLES

Articles of incorporation of Pacific Lodge No. 38, Danish Brotherhood, of Oakland, California, were filed today. The directors are H. H. Kroman, John Thomson, John C. Scott, A. Th. Jorgensen, L. Erickson, O. M. Lytton and Andrew Stockholm.

pit and grabbed the rope. He opened the trap door and gave a pull. There was a shuffling noise as something was dragged out. It offered no resistance. Neither did it show any desire to fight the bulldog. It was not a badger after all. Hodgkins and the few who were in the deal laughed and the fight was declared off.

STUDENTS STILL COMING This Winter a Record Breaker For the Polytechnic Business College.

During the past ten days many students from distant parts of the West have enrolled at the Polytechnic College. One young man came from Los Angeles, another from Hanford, two from Idaho, two young ladies from Nevada. In fact every State west of the Rocky Mountains is now represented in the student body. These young people are coming to Oakland because of the superior facilities to be found at the Polytechnic Business College and College of Engineering.

This college is also conducting a special school of Telegraphy and Station Work for the Southern Pacific Company which attracts many students, as the S. P. Co. is offering flattering inducements. The Polytechnic College is said to be the best equipped and most complete business training school west of Chicago. Its high standards and reputation for high grade work are becoming generally known throughout the West. New spring term will open about March 1st.

ENDEAVORS MEET IN TWO SESSIONS

Alameda County C. E. U. Has 21st Annual Convention at Presbyterian Church.

The 21st annual convention of the Alameda County Christian Endeavor Union held two sessions at the First Presbyterian Church yesterday afternoon and evening, before a large gathering of members.

The afternoon session was presided over by Alfred S. Dingle. The program was: Praise service, Earle H. Russell; devotional, Rev. Joseph Newton Boyd, of the Union Street Presbyterian Church, solo; Mrs. W. S. Ready, Symposium; Mabel Kimball, Tenth Legion; Margaret Smith, Quiet Hour; Dr. A. S. Kelly, on "Our Floating Work." Rev. L. A. McAfee of Berkeley in his address "The Call," spoke very enthusiastically on the present missionary work being done all over the world. Professor S. P. Mead, principal of the Cole Grammar School, addressed the convention on "The Battle."

Adjournment was taken at 6 o'clock, when the members partook of a basket supper in the church. Rev. Ernest E. Baker acted as toastmaster and C. D. Baker, Dr. Denman, Rev. F. H. Mead, and H. B. Lyon being some of the members to respond.

Ellis Wood Presides.

Ellis E. Wood, the former president of the Alameda County Christian Endeavor, presided over the evening session. The following were others on the evening's program: Praise service, Leo S. Rodgers; devotional, Paul C. Brown; song, congregation; announcements, Ellis E. Wood; offertory, solo, Mabel Walker Murrell; address, "The Wider Service," Rev. Chas. R. Brown.

The following are the newly installed officers: Leo S. Rodgers, president; Dr. A. S. Kelly, first vice-president; L. A. Ward, second vice-president; Sophie Jorgensen, third vice-president; Rees Martin, corresponding secretary; L. C. Russell, recording secretary; Alfred S. Dingle, statistical secretary; George O. Bordwell, treasurer; Chas. Kane, junior superintendent; Robert C. Parker, intermediate superintendent; Rev. T. A. Boyle, counselor.

ALLEGED MISSOURI THIEF IS CAPTURED

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—Detective Wren and Rioridan this morning arrested Orville Ashley and Clarence Walker, the former being wanted in Charleston, Mississippi county, Mo., on a charge of stealing $1100 from the county collector.

The robbery took place about a month ago and a $100 reward was offered for the arrest of Ashley, who was supposed to have run away with Walker. Both men will be held pending the arrival of the deputy sheriff to return them to the East.

SENTENCED TO HANG FOR FATAL SHOOTING

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—The Supreme Court handed down a decision yesterday which consigns Edward Manasse to the gallows for the murder of John C. Cook in Sacramento. Manasse lived with his wife on the river front in the Big House, and Cook lived on a scow in the river. On the night of December 23, 1906, he shot Manasse on the bed where he lay.

At the trial the plea of self-defense was entered after an admission of the murder.

The decision was written by Judge Sloss and concurred in by all the other Justices.

COFFEE

Schilling's Best is a business-like name; you know what it means; and it means what you want.

Your grocer returns your money if you don't like it; we pay him.

MIGHTY PRINCE OF INDIA DUE ON STEAMER KOREA

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—His Highness, Nawab Sultan-ul-Mulk Bdr. ruler over three millions of people. He is en route to Europe and is traveling in regal magnificence. His movements are considered of such importance that T. J. O'Brien, ambassador to Tokio, has written to Collector of the Port Frederick Stratton to extend him every courtesy upon his arrival here.

Ambassador O'Brien has furnished Collector Stratton with a detailed list of the royal entourage and says he will personally appreciate any favors extended to the party, which is coming on the steamer Korea.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 8.—Three thieves early this morning hurled a brick through a window of a downtown jewelry store at Liberty and Seventh avenues and grabbing a dozen watches, several rings and other valuables, made their escape. The robbery was witnessed by a number of persons.

OAKLAND'S BEST OPTICIAN
EYES TESTED LENSES GRIND
CHAS. H. WOOD
1153 WASHINGTON STREET

ICE CREAM
"THE DIFFERENT KIND"
SUNDAY SPECIAL
(Brick Form)
Banana with Maple Center
Delicious for Sunday Dinner Dessert
Only pure, sweet cream, fruits and flavors used in Maplewood products.

Maplewood
PURE ICE CREAM

Phone Oakland 8044
Home Phone A4044

A MARRIED COUPLE

Should commence life with a savings account, which will counteract wastefulness; insure against poverty and mean financial independence in old age. We invite every young married couple to open an account with us. One dollar will open the account and we furnish hand-some home savings banks, which make savings easy. Interest on all deposits.

FARMERS AND MERCHANTS SAVINGS BANK
Broadway near 12th St., Oakland

OFFICERS.

Edson F. Adams...President
S. B. McKee...Vice-President
George S. Meredith...Cashier
F. G. Martens...Asst. Cashier

SPECIAL WATCH SALE

H. MORTON
GOLD AND SILVERSMITH

is now offering a SPECIAL DISCOUNT on his fine line of GOLD, GOLD-FILLED AND SILVER WATCHES. If you are need of a good Watch it will pay you to investigate this sale at once, as it will only last a few days. See the display in his window at

1109 BROADWAY, OAKLAND

The Art of Spelling.

When forty-three out of fifty candidates for junior clerkships in one of the Sydney, Australia, municipal departments failed in a test of spelling of words somewhat unusual but which ought to be familiar to any ordinarily well educated youth in the English language, it is not at all exceptional in the experience of well-educated Americans—graduates of our higher universities. The late Senator Leland Stanford had a failing for spelling the simple word "much"—"mutch"—and we recall the case of a Harvard graduate who at one time was a member of the San Francisco Board of Education and afterwards was elected superintendent of that city's public schools who unfailingly spelled "William"—"Wiliam"—in all his written communications where the word was used. The inability to spell correctly is due to defects in our educational system or to some lack in the mentality of the majority of fairly well educated men may never be determined. It is a matter of common knowledge, for example, to those familiar with his manuscripts, that a well known Californian poet, who is one of the most graceful writers "in print" and has been for many years a university professor of English literature, is one of the poorest of spellers "in manuscript." The ability to spell correctly is either a natural gift or a laboriously acquired art which most persons are incapable of mastering, but the fact that one does not possess it in a business where its possession is a non-essential, should not act as a bar to his employment if otherwise competent. The world has produced many atrocious spellers who have distinguished themselves away beyond their contemporaries and made a place for themselves in the permanent history of the human race. Moreover, the fellow who sets spelling as a test of efficiency on the part of a candidate for a position in the every day affairs of life, in which correct spelling cuts no figure, is usually a fraud or a parvenu who has searched the dictionary diligently for unusual or obsolete words of complex construction to display an erudition which he does not possess, in order to set up a false standard of learning for himself and to entrap unwary victims.

If Professor of Jurisprudence in the University of California George H. Boke had possessed any knowledge of the written laws of English communities he would have known that the right to suspend or annul a publican's license for conducting an establishment in a disorderly and disreputable manner and in violation of those laws is reserved by the authorities when the license is granted, and is, moreover, frequently summarily exercised. Boke is another Dogberry.

Electrization of Steam Railroads.

After a long period of speculation concerning the purposes to which the electric power to be developed by the Great Western Power Company at the outlet of the Big Bend tunnel on the Feather river and by the vast works to be erected in Oakland, on the east side of the north arm of the estuary, was to be devoted, it is now officially announced, according to a Marysville dispatch, that it will be employed in operating the trans of the Western Pacific. This confirms THE TRIBUNE'S surmise of the relationship of the Great Western Power Company to the Western Pacific Railroad Company which was published when the former secured the property in this city for the erection thereon of a 50,000 horse power electric plant. The works at the mouth of the Big Bend tunnel are far advanced toward completion. The plant will generate an equal amount of power to the generating plant which is to be located here at the foot of Fourth avenue. Guy C. Earle, vice-president of the Great Western Power Company, states, and his statement is confirmed by the secretary of the corporation that within the next five years all of the passenger and freight trains of the Western Pacific from Salt Lake City to the bay of San Francisco will be hauled by electric locomotives. It is asserted that the latter are capable of hauling loads 75 per cent greater than steam locomotives over the steep grades of the Sierra. An electric locomotive can, moreover, easily overcome grades which a steam locomotive cannot surmount.

The electrization of the Western Pacific Railroad will doubtless force the Southern Pacific Company to follow suit. The latter will not be able to hold its own in the trans-Sierran competition with steam locomotives against electric traction power. It will be remembered that one of the results of Harriman's visit to this State and to the Klamath Lake region last summer was to direct his electrical engineering chiefs to make a study of the sources of available water power for the generation of electric energy in California, Oregon and Nevada and the feasibility of applying it to the operation of the company's Pacific Coast system. Considering the low cut at which electric power can be produced from the descending waste waters of the mountain streams, it is astonishing that the managers of the steam trunk lines have not utilized it long ago to move their trains. It is not improbable, however, that within the next few years the passage of the steam locomotive will be witnessed from all of the railroads in the State and the electric traction engine will take its place.

Frenzied Finance Elimination.

It is represented that a few months ago Charles W. Morse, the New York plunger, was able to display $11,000,000 worth of negotiable securities which he owned exclusively and his fortune was estimated to equal many times that amount. The intensity of the struggle which is daily taking place in that whirlpool of "frenzied finance," Wall Street, is demonstrated by the announcement that in the short period of three months Morse's vast fortune has melted away through what his rivals in the field of banking call the process of elimination, which means simply deliberately stripping their victim of everything he possessed once they got him in their power, and that as mercilessly as any highwayman would do the business in a hold-up. Morse is such a resourceful and energetic fellow that those who have skinned him of all he possessed have been fearing that he may attempt to recover lost ground and prestige, and they have started a series of civil and criminal suits against him in order to make the "elimination" more complete and secure, charging him with being a defaulter and having fled the country. It is not impossible that the criminal charges made against him have been preferred in order to destroy any spark of influence and credit which he may have retained in financial circles in London, Paris and other European money centers, and on the shrewd assumption that he was speeding incognito across the Atlantic for the purpose of obtaining relief where he had reason to believe he could get it. This has been proved to be the case. Morse has been located as a passenger on board of the Cunarder Campania. Morse is such a bold and determined plunger that although apparently "down and out," the "system" which recently wrecked him fear the consequences of his possible rehabilitation.

THE DIRECT ROUTE

SHOWING HOW PEOPLE ARE "RAILOADED" TO THE PENITENTIARY.
—CHICAGO NEWS.

Terse Press Comment

Rights of the People to Freedom From Dictation or Coercion

Now that the President has made it clear that he will under no circumstances be a candidate for re-election, it is his duty to make it equally clear that he has no candidate for the succession and will not use, or permit to be used, the power entrusted to him for the service of the whole people to promote or support the candidacy of any man. There is no greater abuse of official responsibility than the employment of official power and influence to sway the action of the people in selecting their delegates to representative conventions or in choosing those who are to serve them as legislators or elective officers. For the President to say who his successor shall be, and to undertake by the power of his office to control the political organization that has honored him for the ratification of his choice, falls little short of setting himself up as a dictator. If his candidate is one of his own official advisers, identified with his administration and devoted to his policies, whatever they may be, the matter is made worse and more closely allied with an effort to perpetuate his own hold upon office.

The American people are entitled to be free from this kind of dictation or coercion, and should resent every attempt to exercise it. President Roosevelt, having put himself in line with the wholesome tradition against the third term, would do himself honor, raise himself in the estimation of the people and win the lasting gratitude of the country, if he would take his stand with equal firmness against the use of his great office, in conflict with the untrammelled will of the people, to determine who his successor shall be. It would be an example worthy to stand by the side of that of the first President in refusing a second re-election.—New York Journal of Commerce.

Western Coal Supply Threats to be Short This Winter

The New York Journal of Commerce says that it has learned that the Union Pacific directors have, in common with directors of other roads owning and operating coal mines, been discussing the question of the segregation of the coal and transportation departments, in accordance with the provisions of the rate law of last year. The provisions of this law will prohibit them on and after May 1 from transporting any article or commodity other than timber, manufactured or produced by them. The interpretation given the laws by the attorneys for the Union Pacific is that the company may produce and transport its own coal for its own use in transportation or other purposes, but shall not sell such coal (from its own mines) before or after it has been transported. In accordance with this interpretation of the law, it is planned by the Union Pacific to keep its coal mines for its own exclusive use. They will be operated sufficiently to supply the Union Pacific system whenever the coal of the mines can be delivered cheaper than from other sections, but consumers even in the company's district will be compelled to buy their supplies elsewhere, which means, the directors believe, that the Union Pacific will receive a large and profitable haul on new traffic. The Union Pacific Coal Company is owned almost exclusively by the Union Pacific Railroad Company. Its entire capital stock of $5,000,000 is so owned.

Losses to the Union Pacific, consequent upon unfortunate legislation, is the business of the stockholders and directors of that corporation; any restriction of the coal supplies in this section is the business of the people of Butte. Just what effect the new law will have, after being put in operation next May, is uncertain; but it is more than probable that it will mean increased difficulty in securing coal in the west.—Butte Inter-Mountain.

Balloon Enterprises Created by States of Maine and New Jersey The more the collapse on Wall

SAVE MONEY

—“Chestnut” you say.
Q Yes, and so is death.
Q But you cannot evade the issue by avoiding it.
Q It's simply a case of having to save or suffer.
Q We have all the organization to make saving easy—come and see us.

SECURITY BANK & TRUST CO. Cor. Eleventh and Broadway.

OFFICERS
H. C. Capwell, President
A. D. Wilson, Vice-President
Charles A. Smith, Cashier
R. S. Knight, Asst. Cashier
DIRECTORS
A. D. Wilson, John A. Beckwith
H. C. Capwell, W. H. L. Hyman
C. E. Snook, Carl S. Platt
C. J. Freeman, W. K. Burbank
T. W. Corder, Frank K. Mott
Hayward G. Thomas

THE
UNION NATIONAL BANK
OF OAKLAND, CALIFORNIA
N. W. Corner Twelfth and Broadway
UNITED STATES DEPOSITORY
Established 1875.

OFFICERS
JAMES L. de FREMERY, President.
GEO. D. GRAY, Vice-President.
GEORGE ROETH, Vice-President.
E. F. JORDAN, Cashier.
GEO. SCHAMMEL, Asst. Cashier.

DIRECTORS
JAMES L. de FREMERY
GEO. D. GRAY
GEORGE ROETH
JNO. H. PERINE
JULES ABRAHAMSON
JOHN G. MATTOS JR.
GEO. M. PERINE
R. W. KINNEY
C. E. PALMER
F. W. BELGER

street is investigated the more it appears that a card house of inflated stocks and bonds had been built up in times of unprecedented prosperity, and that when pay-day arrived and bonds had to stand for something tangible in the market the bottom went out and the card house tumbled, good stocks tumbling with bad.

So long as Maine and New Jersey are permitted to incorporate these balloon enterprises and they are permitted to impose their hot-air securities on the market, so long will business be subject to these periodical collapses. When there is a national regulation of incorporation and only legitimate enterprises are permitted to incorporate in interstate business, the corner stone will have been laid of the permanent foundation of business prosperity.

National adoption of the Iowa incorporation law would do more to insure immunity from future disaster than any possible currency legislation.—Des Moines Register and Leader.

Italian Popular Bank
Broadway and Eighth St.
Oakland
Commercial and Savings
Loans
CAPITAL STOCK $250,000.00
CHEV. J. F. FUGAZI, President.
F. N. BELGRANO, Cashier.
P. MORRIS, Assistant Cashier.
G. GHIGLIERI, Local Manager.

BANK OF GERMANY
1225 Broadway
Five reasons why the bank is becoming popular in its short time:
FIRST—It is a safe bank.
SECOND—It is a bank for all the people, rich and poor, women and children.
THIRD—It is courteous to its depositors and aims to accommodate them.
FOURTH—It has 1,000 stockholders, each of whom are interested in the bank's welfare.
FIFTH—Its management is conservative.
THEO. GIER, President.
A. JONAS, Vice-President.
GEO. E. DE GOLIA, Attorney.
T. H. SCHULZE, Asst. Cashier.

THE OAKLAND BANK OF SAVINGS

NORTHEAST CORNER TWELFTH AND BROADWAY

INCORPORATED 1867

COMMERCIAL AND SAVINGS

Capital and Surplus - (Paid In Coin) - $1,423,000.00

OFFICERS

HENRY ROGERS, Pres. W. W. GARTHWAITE, Vice-Pres. and Mgr.
J. Y. ECCLESTON, Cashier and Secretary
F. A. ALLARDT, Asst. Cash. SAMUEL BRECK, Asst. Cash.
J. A. THOMSON, Asst. Sec'y.

DIRECTORS

M. L. REQUA, HORACE DAVIS,
J. K. MOFFITT, A. BORLAND,
W. B. DUNNING, GEO. H. COLLINS,
HENRY ROGERS, J. Y. ECCLESTON,
W. W. GARTHWAITE.

P. E. BOWLES, President
E. N. WALTER, Cashier
L. G. BURPEE and L. C. MOREHOUSE, Vice-Presidents
C. N. WALTER and S. H. KITTO, Assistant Cashiers
UNITED STATES DEPOSITORY
Capital Paid Up $300,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits $200,000.00

FIRST NATIONAL BANK
OAKLAND CALIFORNIA

BOND DEPARTMENT
High Grade Securities Bought and Sold
Prices and Lists on Application.

CENTRAL BANK

14th and Broadway, OAKLAND

CONSERVATISM, on the part of the management.

CONFIDENCE, on the part of the public.

—these are the two elements of successful and safe banking. The Central Bank of Oakland is built upon both.

OFFICERS:
THOMAS CRELLIN, President.
W. G. PALMANTER, Vice-President and Manager.
J. F. CARLSTON, Vice-President and Cashier.
ARTHUR L. HARRIS, Assistant Cashier.

DIRECTORS:
THOMAS CRELLIN
J. F. CARLSTON
JOHN L. HOWARD
J. W. PHILLIPS
W. T. VEITCH.
W. G. PALMANTER
GEORGE C. PERKINS
JAMES K. MOFFITT
CHARLES D. PIERCE
ANSON S. BLAKE

... THE ... SYNDICATE BANK

SAN PABLO AVENUE AND 38TH STREET
EMERYVILLE, CAL.

INCORPORATED JULY 15, 1903.
AUTHORIZED AND PAID-UP CAPITAL $100,000.
SURPLUS $20,000.

DIRECTORS:
B. P. MILLER, President.
E. A. HERON, Second Vice-President.
HENRY WADSWORTH, First Vice-President.
F. M. SMITH, W. F. KELLY,
F. C. HAVENS, ROLAND L. OLIVER,
SAMUEL J. TAYLOR, Secretary, Cashier.
INTEREST PAID ON DEPOSITS.

COUNTRY OWES POWER TO HER, SAYS M. GROS

Chicago Bosses Like Widow; Always Have a Job for Her

MILK

As a Skin Beautifier
Is Still Popular

In France they have a way of plunging out thin cheeks which may be tried with excellent effects. A cosmetic ball is fastened to the end of a stick. The ball is made of a lump of cold cream, covered lightly with cheese. The ball of cream is then spatted on the face until the skin becomes moist and soft. The friction is excellent for the cuticle.

Then there is the massage with the finger tips to rub the cream in, and last of all the dash of cold water. Hot water should be used at night and never less than the minimum. The skin is tender after the hot water bath, the massage, and steaming and should be rested for at least an hour after the treatment.

How to Darn Laces

Like Widow; a Job for Her

Millionaire Women Are Not

Take the Vanderbilt women, for instance. Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, the younger, is an expert linguist and could easily form conversation classes in language among the newly rich. Imagining the joy of being taught German verbs and French nouns by a Vanderbilt who had once transported whole theatrical companies from New York to perform at her Newport lawn and who had studied

arn Laces

the paper pulled away and the remaining stitches put in on the machine or by hand.

Hamburg edgings and insertions can be darned in the same way. They should preferably be free of starch and smooth ironed to facilitate perfect work.

White mosquito netting that has been washed will be found to give a good foundation for darning coarsely woven underwear on the machine, and the black mosquito netting should be basted under the holes in the knees of boys' stockings.

It should be basted directly across the

- The Brinkley Girl

because I'm homesick for the blazing blue and gold West and the dandiest, youngest-hearted, sportiest Dad that ever a girl had, that I left out there. But anyway, it's gay to be twenty and town-headed—even if you do feel like an emigrant from his sunny Italia when it gets gray and rains."

Millionaire Women Through Recent Financial Upheaval Are Nearly Obligated to Face the Cold, Cold World

Take the Vanderbilt women, for instance. Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, the younger, is an expert linguist and could easily form conversation classes in language among the newly rich. Imagining the joy of being taught German verbs and French nouns by a Vanderbilt who had once transported whole theatrical companies from New York to perform at her Newport lawn and who had studied

arn Laces

the paper pulled away and the remaining stitches put in on the machine or by hand.

Hamburg edgings and insertions can be darned in the same way. They should preferably be free of starch and smooth ironed to facilitate perfect work.

White mosquito netting that has been washed will be found to give a good foundation for darning coarsely woven underwear on the machine, and the black mosquito netting should be basted under the holes in the knees of boys' stockings.

It should be basted directly across the Countess of K——." Why not equally possible for a brilliantly successful brewer or copper king to pay princely figures for the services of a famous dog breeder? This life's lap-dog, provided the latter was taken from the kennels of Mrs. Reginald Vanderbilt?

Mrs. Aurel Batonyi, who was Miss Fanny Work, might have some trouble in establishing herself as a teacher of bridge, but not from lack of ability; for she is an expert. But she would find herself in competition with no less a personage than Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont. Imagine being asked to choose between these two ladies as teachers?

Mrs. Helen Hay Whitney, the wife of threads can afterward be trimmed away.

When you are through darning upon the machine, do not forget to replace the pressure on the pressure foot and the stitch action to the normal position. You may find it somewhat puzzled the next time you go to the machine and wonder why it "won't make a stitch."

Darning upon the single-thread or chain-stitch machine is somewhat more difficult, as the machine will sew in only one direction, and the thread must be broken off before the lifting of the pressure foot at the completion of each row of darning.

This leaves a multiplicity of loose ends on the under side of the work. Unless great care is taken to clip these ends and they are very apt to catch into the sewing and spoil the appearance of the darning.

A medium stitch is best when darning upon the chainstitch machine.

Another young woman whose musical abilities would insure her a comfortable if not luxurious living is Mrs. Olive Barnes, nee Barney, who is a gifted violinist and was for several seasons first violinist with the David Mannes Symphony Club.

Mrs. Peter Cooper Hewitt is another artistically gifted matron. In private theatricals she has shown decided ability.

Miss Clara Bardis is a close second to Mrs. Hewitt, though her stage gifts are purely terpsichorean. She is little and graceful and her dancing is far better than that of the average stage favorite.

Mrs. Arthur Burden, who was Miss Cynthia Roche, would get almost anyone, she wanted as a teacher of tennis.

past mistress. And think of the elegant debutante who would announce that she had been prepared for outdoor sports by two such charming representatives of the old-time millionaire class.

Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish could make round sum by arranging entertainments for the new millionaire class. Public entertainers who have worked under her direction, agents from whom she has secured decorators and caterers agreed that Mrs. Fish has no equal as a mistress of entertaining. Novelty is her passion, and novelty she would provide if the price mentioned was high enough.

There are even more practical avenues along which the fancies of the millionaire woman run. For instance, Mrs. Richard Irwin would only have to turn her sales Roslyn, L. I., schools up to a very high standard, but she has studied school laws and conditions all over this State and others. At Albany, among the educational powers, she stands very high; she knows the scope and power and weakness of the regents much better than those officials know themselves. And, what is more, she would make the sort of supervisor or superintendent who stays right with a measure until it is put through, a reform until it is instituted and established.

---

GAINSBORO STYLE
MIDWINTER HAT

the left side uptilted and mased with crushed velvet roses. The hat is of fine felt or black velvet and the grown will be seen almost covered with roses or ribbon bows, while one large black plume is fastened at the front of the brim and passes, along the left side of the hat, almost covering the rose trimming. It is a Paris style and very good. Black looks uncommonly good with pink roses, which are blended with cream and buff tint. A pure white hat shows the straight, superior brim and the immense white velvet bandeau extends all around the hat, while the left side is trimmed with short white plumes that match the large or encircling the upper side of the brim.

Man With Rare Presence of Mind

Rescues 2 Women In Ball Gowns

From Two Speedy
Trains

of the Parkway he found a coach and its driver asleep on the box. Inside the coach was another woman waiting to be carried out.

The front legs of the horses were wedged between two ties, and the front wheels of the coach were so firmly caught in a depression that the vehicle could not be moved. The coachman was awakened, but he was so dead to the world that a policeman was called to carry him off, a prisoner. A wrecking crew brought a set of jacks, and after an hour and a half of hard work the coach and horses were extricated and traffic was resumed. The man and the two women, both in ball dress, boarded a trolley car.

The coachman, Frederick Bischoff of 4818 Fifth avenue, Brooklyn, was fined $10 by Magistrate Steers for falling asleep at the switch.

$10—PRIZE—$10

HOW FAR SHOULD A WOMAN GO TO PROTECT HER LOVED ONES

HOW FAR SHOULD A WOMAN GO TO PROTECT HER LOVED ONES?
WHAT IS THE LIMIT OF THE SACRIFICES SHE SHOULD MAKE, OR IS THERE A LIMIT, EVEN DEATH?
FOR THE BEST THOUGHT, CONTAINED IN LESS THAN 200 WORDS, IN ANSWER TO THESE QUESTIONS, THE TRIBUNE WILL PAY $10. THIS CON-TEST IS OPEN TO ALL WOMEN READERS OF THE TRIBUNE AND WILL CLOSE MARCH 1.
TO HAVE CONTRIBUTIONS CONSIDERED THEY MUST BE WRITTEN ON ONE SIDE OF THE PAPER, WITH NAME AND ADDRESS GIVEN.
ADDRESS ALL COMMUNICATIONS TO THE EDITOR OF THE WOMAN'S PAGE, THE TRIBUNE, OAKLAND, CAL.

It has been proven, times without number, what great sacrifices women are capable of, and have made for the loved ones. And from the living examples we read of every day there can be no limit placed upon a woman's sacrifice.

We do not know what limit means when brought to the final test, and

A woman will protect and shield loved ones regardless of cost.

19 MRS. J. S. ALLEN
20 Livermore, Cal.

SWINDLED BY WEALTHY PATRONS, LOSES HER MINN

enter the house after that, and it supposed she locked herself in.

When the storm broke lately, Morde suddenly threw open every window in her rooms and, with snow swirling in, she began shouting in glee and going through motions skating from one end of the apartment to the other. The neighbors came alarmed and Dr. William Young, of No. 46 West Sixty-first street, was called in. He notified the police, but no formal complaint was made.

and Miss Merodex placed a chair at the open front window and, leaning on the sill, began to rant about her and about gowns she had created for the Vanderbilt wedding. She stood still at the front window, and almost numb with the cold, when a Miss Hall of Boston, came to visit her. And Miss Hall had arrived on the night before "Shakespeare."

"She told me she had just got married," Miss Hall said, "and added, 'I'm so happy you've come for me this year. I only did it, you know, to defy him.'"

Miss Hall said the man referred to lived in Boston.

Miss Merodex went willingly to her leavie, declaring a sleigh ride was what she wanted.

Yankee Girl to Race An English Motorist

many races abroad. He drove his 30-horse car 123 miles in an hour over the Brimlands motor course, Weybridge, England. It happens that Miss Dudley is a very good chauffeur. "When a lady was being served at the merry dinner of one of Miss Dudley's addressers, knowing that she is going to England in the spring, exclaimed:

"I shall not wonder that Miss Dudley drives a 90-horse-power car can beat Brim in a 100-mile run." "The Brooklands course," "Dingo," cried Brim.

"No," doled on, "bushings becoming." "Of course I will not race for myself unless the winner gives the stakeholder's clerks."

And so the match was arranged.

Boy of Ten Kills MOTHER With a Revolver

PITTSBURG, Feb. 8.—"Throw your hands, mamma, I'm Deadw Dick!" commanded 10-year-old H. Malloy at the home of his father Latrobe. Michael Malloy is a policeman, and the boy had his father's revolver leveled at her head.

Before she could seize the weapon it was discharged and the bullet entered her stomach and she died without regaining consciousness.

IS CHINCHILLA FUR IN VOGUE FOR EVENING WEAR

Fur coats are having a great vogue. Some are simply made and are decorated with all trimming, while other are made with cloth, silk, and lace, heavily embroidered, braided, and elaborated in various ways. Chinchilla is a favorite fur for evening wear, and Russian fur is worn on all occasions.

Net Blouses Are Darned in Color

Some of the new white net blouses darned in colors. Linen instead of thread is used in quite deep shades of pink, red, dull blue, and orange. Some of these blouses have a chiffon collar over the satin to soften them.

THE MEDDLER

MRS. OSCAR F. LONG

—Webster photo.

MISS RUTH ADAMS

The one large event of the winter is of course the card tournament for the benefit of the Sunshine Pavilion of the Dottie Cooke Annex. The tournament is all the more welcome that we have had almost no large gatherings this winter for many obvious reasons. The tournament will mean a great reunion of Oakland people, brought nearer together by their interest in a common cause—by their deep desire to do for helpless little children those things which may brighten their lot. A little child laid low by sickness is one of the saddest things in the world, and no home in which there are happy children could fail to help the cause of the Sunshine Pavilion.

One person might make a gift to Fabela of the Sunshine Pavilion, but it would never mean to the rest of us, what it will mean in the future. It will belong to us all in the future, for together we will have helped to build it. We will have given of our money what we could spare. We will have given of our sympathy, of our thorough interest, and our gifts have represented the generous impulses of our hearts. So there bids fair to be a great outpouring of people at Ebell Hall on the night of the tournament.

There are many phases to be considered of this card club gathering. In the first place, everyone ought to give to the fund. All of us know there is a good deal of selfishness in Oakland and people ought to be stirred into a generous consideration for the needs in other lines.

Mrs. Requa has shown us the way, has given us the opportunity, and only very few families in town could be excused from helping along the good cause. What we all do together is so much worth while. It brings us nearer together and we have the uplift which makes life worth while.

Friendships become dearer when people together try to do some generous, kindly act, and the Sunshine Pavilion may send its rays much farther than the Fabela grounds—to shine warmly in generous hearts. In many families the children could give a little from their personal allowance, no matter how small it might be; for a good deed has no money measure.

The best impulses of heart and soul rise far above money considerations, and each family can quite frankly give of its store, however small the gift may be. It needs to be impressed upon the general public that no invitations have been sent out. There is only one invitation, and that is to the general public. All who are interested in helping the cause of the Sunshine Pavilion are welcome. There will be bridge, play, whist and five hundred, and there is a gallery for those who do not care to play cards at all. The "looker-on in Venice" will be quite comfortable.

Bridge will be played in the upper hall and five hundred in the lower hall, and there will be a separate room for whist. There will probably be the largest card gathering that Oakland has ever seen, but so perfectly are all the details being arranged that a successful tournament is now assured. Mrs. Mark Requa is having the hearty co-operation of Mrs. Yule and of all the members of the entire Fabela Association. She met them all at the Country Club last Friday afternoon, and explained the many details of the helpful plan for the children. Many suggestions of interest were offered by the members present and were promptly adopted, and Mrs. Requa's address was so able and along such practical lines that it was received with much enthusiasm by the many members present. Later they were Mrs. Requa's guests at afternoon tea, when there was a further cordial discussion of plans for the success of the tournament.

Among those taking part in the informal discussion were Mrs. Mark Requa, Mrs. John Yule, Mrs. Frank L. Brown, Mrs. Oscar Luning, Mrs. E. B. Sanborn, Mrs. Hugh Hogan, Mrs. R. A. Bray, Mrs. Oscar F. Long, Mrs. Chas. Egbert, Mrs. W. W. Standford, Mrs. N. A. Ryle, Mrs. W. W. Garthwaite, Mrs. Edwin Garthwaite, Miss Mollie Connors, Mrs. Seaver, Mrs. E. M. Remillard, Mrs. Rupert Whitehead.

The patronesses, whom Mrs. Mark Requa has chosen to help her are scoring much good work. Each one is a center of activity and each one is rallying around her many of her personal friends. The list of patronesses is an exceedingly good one, carrying the names of women of good executive ability, each one representing much in a social way, and most of them able to show good work in the past along charitable lines. On the list of patronesses are Mrs. Isaac Requa, Mrs. Oscar Long, Mrs. John Yule, Mrs. Frank L. Brown, Mrs. Remi Chabot, Mrs. J. P. H. Dunn, Mrs. Dieckman, Mrs. Robert Knight, Miss Mollie Connors, Mrs. Q. A. Chase, Mrs. Willard Barton, Mrs. Frank Havens, Mrs. Wickham Havens, Mrs. Edward Engs, Mrs. Edward Walsh, Mrs. Edson Adams, Mrs. Egbert Stone, Mrs. James Allen, Mrs. Henry Taft, Mrs. Minor Goodall, Mrs. Harry Knowles, Mrs. S. A. O'Neill, Mrs. William G. Henshaw, Mrs. Harry Chickering, Mrs. Arthur Rickard, Mrs. Fred Magee, Mrs. George H. Wheaton, Mrs. George S. Wheaton, Mrs. R. Augustus Bray, Mrs. Robert Fitzgerald, Mrs. Valentine, Mrs. Henry Rosenfeld, Mrs. George Rodolph, Mrs. W. W. Garthwaite, Mrs. Arthur Tashelra, Mrs. John Francis Smith, Mrs. Vernon Waldron, Mrs. Edward von Adelung, Mrs. C. B. Wingate, Mrs. Oscar Luning, Mrs. E. A. Heron, Mrs. A. Schilling, Mrs. Wallace Everson, Mrs. Edward Remillard.

The many committees appointed by Mrs. Mark Requa are reporting exceedingly good work. Mrs. Oscar Long and Mrs. R. Augustus Bray have charge of the prizes, and already they have more than twenty very beautiful gifts, with promises of a great many more. There will be so many beautiful prizes that the game will be well worth playing. Seuberg is to have charge of the decorations, and as Ebell gives a colonial luncheon the day before the combination of the decoration schemes will probably be most effective.

Mrs. Oscar Luning has charge of the decorations for the colonial luncheon, and that in itself insures an artistic result. At the head of the poster committee—for beautiful posters are to announce the tournament—is Mrs. Arthur Tashelra. Among those who are preparing picturesque posters are Mr. Partington and Miss Isabelle Percy, the talented daughter of Mrs. George W. Percy.

At the head of the refreshment committee is Mrs. Isaac Requa, whose long experience in charitable work makes her an admirable hostess and charitable affairs. All of us remember how able for weeks she was at the head of the committee which cared for thousands of soldiers on their way to the Philippines. It is not planned to have elaborate refreshments; that would be impossible in so large a crowd, but they will be planned along simple lines, to add to the cordiality of the evening.

Mrs. Requa will have about thirty of the young matrons and younger girls to assist her in serving the refreshments, and the attractive girls in their pretty gowns will add a dainty picture to an already brilliant scene.

Mary Hallahan is giving the most valuable assistance, and her generous help will add much to the success of the labors of the refreshment committee.

At the head of the card game is Mrs. Frank L. Brown, and she has chosen as her assistants some of the best bridge players on this side of the bay. Among them are Mrs. Harry Knowles, Mrs. Minor Goodall, Mrs. Robert Knight, Mrs. William G. Henshaw, Mrs. James G. Allen, Mrs. Edson Adams, Mrs. Egbert Stone, Mrs. Harry Smith, Mrs. Harriet Hall, Mrs. Robert Fitzgerald, Miss Elizabeth McNear, Mrs. Ernest Folger, Miss Mary Wilson, Miss George Strong. Some of the card clubs wish to play together, which will add to the interest of the evening for them.

Tickets for the card tournament will be for sale at Smith's Book Store, and all will be welcome to the tournament who care to aid the good cause of building a Sunshine Pavilion for the little sick children of Fabela. Tickets may also be obtained of any of the patronesses or of Mrs. Mark Requa—and the more tickets that are needed, the greater will be the joy of these earnest workers.

HAIL RETURN OF COTILLION.

The younger people of New York's social set hail with joy the return of the cotillion, with its many favors. A few years ago they grew tired of it, and the cotillion was supplemented by the assembly, in which the two-step was danced untiringly. But the pendulum has swung back, and now the cotillion has returned to favor, and the beautiful gifts which are given at even of these cotillions is startling even to extravagant New York.

In one of the cotillions the men carried heads of animals, for one of the most novel figures of the week was a Noah's Ark in one corner of the ballroom. The dancers carried sticks with the heads of animals as they entered the ark and chose their partners for the Noah figure. In the final figure a large tree of paper American Beauty roses was brought in on a sled by four men, driven by a young woman. The roses were given as favors. The cotillions are very late, the guests all arriving from the operas a little before midnight.

A description of some of these cotillions gives one a glimpse of a bit of fairy land. One of the most notable was given by Mrs. Ogden Mills. Among the figures was a Japanese figure in which large parasols covered with artificial wisteria in yellow, mauve and pink were carried, and in another figure the men danced through an immense red heart, detaching from it large red chrysanthemums for their partners. In the flower figure China animals with sprays of sweet peas, violets or lilies of the valley were given to the girls, and the men received small China ash receivers and cigarette holders to match. Other favors were small editions of Shakespeare, framed prints, brocade match boxes and beautiful red sashes.

In a social way we usually follow New York's lead, so perhaps next season will see the cotillion returning to its own again among the younger members of the smart set. The cotillions that we formerly had were bright affairs, and among those who led them in the past were Amy Requa, now Mrs. Long; Laura Crellin, now Mrs. Robert Fitzgerald, and Joan Hush, now Mrs. Wells. The "fortnightly" gave many interesting Germans, and among the brilliant leaders were formerly Grace Gowing, Florence Hayden, Gertrude Allen and Irene Baker.

The younger set of today have never enjoyed the German as it should be danced, for the "assembly" has been in vogue since most of the young girls have come out, and it must be conceded that the assembly is on a tone of dead monotony, with its inevitable two-step.

METCALF'S ANNUAL DINNER.

Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Metcalf are to give their annual dinner to the President and Mrs. Roosevelt on the evening of February 11th. Their guests from California will be Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Bowles and Mr. and Mrs. George W. McNear, Jr.

The Bowles and McNear left for Washington on Wednesday, and they will be honored guests at one of the most brilliant dinners of the Washington season.

Mrs. Metcalf is most popular in Washington, her unfailing good humor and her cheerfulness making her a most welcome guest everywhere. She is very bright also, and has most charming manners, so she is a valued member of many receiving parties. Her dinner to the President and Mrs. Roosevelt will be a most notable affair.

The Bowles and McNear are later going to New York, and Mrs. McNear and Mrs. Edward Lacey Brayton will bring with them to California, their mother, Mrs. J. C. Tucker.

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Bowles will visit their daughter, Miss Amy Bowles, who is at the Spence School in New York.

WILSHIRE'S BRIDGE PARTY. Mrs. Wilshire of Burlingame gave a most delightful bridge party Wednesday in honor of Miss Ruth Adams. The decorations were very beautiful indeed, violets and jonquils used in much profusion adding a lovely spring tone to the color scheme.

Since Miss Adams' engagement to Mr. Godfrey of Riverside, was announced, she has been one of the most complimented of the brides-elect of the winter. The date of her marriage has been set for March the fourth, and the wedding will take place at the home of her sister, Mrs. John Jackson of Burlingame.

MRS. ATHERTON IN MUNICH.

Mrs. Gertrude Atherton, the Californian who has won so much literary distinction, is now in Munich, where she is busy writing a new book. From England comes good news of the success of her late book, and among English notes one reads:

"For instance, the sister of the Prince of Wales, Princess Christian, who herself aspires to write, wrote to a friend in this country recently that she had been reading Gertrude Atherton's 'Ancestors,' and considered it the best novel of the last twenty years. She also said that it was the novel of the home of England and was being read by everybody—even the shop girls had laid aside their romantic trash for the nonce to read 'Ancestors.' Mrs. Atherton's novel in England accompanies 'The Shuttle' and 'Three Weeks' in the group of best sellers for the past fortnight."

"Three Weeks" is the book written by Mrs. Elmer Glyn, the English authoress, who is to arrive in San Francisco in the very near future.

ENTERTAINED THE AMBASSADOR.

Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Metcalf gave an elaborate dinner this week, their guests of honor being Ambassador and Mrs. Bryce. The dinner was an elaborate affair and many distinguished members from the diplomatic corps were invited to meet Ambassador and Mrs. Bryce.

Mrs. Henry Rosenfeld was the hostess at an elaborate luncheon and card party given in honor of Mrs. Wickham Havens, whose birthday anniversary was on Thursday. Since the earthquake the Henry Rosenfelds have lived on this side of the bay at the Nicholson home, where the luncheon was given. Mrs. Rosenfeld entertains most happily, and she is one of the most generous of all the younger matrons of our city. Her friends are indebted to her for immediate good thoes. The large home of the Nicholson was very beautifully decorated, spring blossoms forming the motif for the color scheme, and nothing now-a-days is more effective than the jonquils bringing the first early message of spring. An interesting card game followed the elaborate luncheon and the drawing room in the Nicholson home presented a very brilliant picture, so many of the guests being beautifully gowned. Among the most attractive costumes were those of Mrs. Rosenfeld, Miss Nicholson, Mrs. Albert Long, Mrs. Wickham Havens, Mrs. Harold Havens, Mrs. Edward Engs, Mrs. Loran Pease, Mrs. George Gross, Mrs. Proctor, Mrs. George de Galla. Mr. and Mrs. Rosenfeld leave this week for the southern part of the state, and they will spend some time in Santa Barbara at the Potter.

ENTERTAINING BRIDES ELECT.

Entertaining for the brides-elect and for the young girls who are guests here this winter, goes on apace, and the younger set of girls enjoy themselves thoroughly, for youth must always have its enthusiasms. Among the notable events of the past few days have been the card party given by Mrs. Robert Lee Stephenson, and the tea at which Miss Virginia von Loben Seis was the charming little hostess. Mrs. Stephenson entertained for her cousin, Miss Madeline Clay, and the latter's guest, Miss Staunard, and her attractive home on Perry street presented a lovely picture. The afternoon was a very stormy one, and the home, fragrant with early spring blooms, made a delightful contrast to the storm raging outside.

Mrs. Stephenson was daintily gowned in white, and her mother, Mrs. Hetty Stephenson, was a most charming study in a beautiful costume in shades of pale lavender.

Miss Madeline Clay wore an imported gown of white, showing the empire effect, which continues to be so fashionable, and Miss Staunard wore a handsome New York gown of yellow chiffon.

There were two tables for bridge and several tables for five hundred, and at the close of the card games dainty refreshments were served. The bridge prize was won by Miss Josephine Deming. Miss Madeline Clay won the first prize for five hundred and the consolation prize went to Miss Alice Earl. The young girls made a bright bevy of guests, and looked exceedingly well in their pretty gowns, and among those who thoroughly enjoyed the well planned afternoon were Anita Thomson, Hazel Palminter, Margaret Sinclair, Josephine Deming, Alice Earl, Alice Albright, Clara English, Gladys English, Helma Plaw, Letty Barry, Florence Henshaw, Katherine Kutz, Harriet Meek, Gladys Meek, Eliza McMullin, Elizabeth Albright, Marjory Coogan, Carmen Percy, Susie Harrold, Mrs. Roger Chickering, Mrs. Harry Chickering.

AT HOME FOR MISS PRATHER.

Miss Virginia von Loben Seis was the hostess at a delightful "at home" given for Miss Edna Prather on Thurs-

Continued on Next Page.

SOCIAL NEWS of the WEEK

MRS. JOHN L. LOOSLEY

Continued From Preceding Page.

day afternoon. The cards sent out bore the unique inscription, "Seeds and Bulbs," making the motif for one of the most truly original teas of the season. Everyone tried to obtain truly wonderful bulbs, and one can imagine the beautiful garden which will some time blossom into bloom, bringing memories of this unique tea.

Miss von Loben Sels is a very attractive girl, and a most cultured one. She is a clever linguist and a fine musician, playing exceedingly well. She was very beautifully gowned in pale blue mesaline, showing trimmings of rare lace.

Pretty Edna Prather was a most charming study, and her gown was set off by the dainty basket of violets which she carried. The hostess was assisted in receiving by the girls who will be attendants at Miss Prather's wedding, and the afternoon was not an elaborate affair, but informal and all the more enjoyable on that account. Among the dainty costumes of the afternoon were those worn by Edna Orr, Katherine Kutz, Ray Wellman, Evelyn Hussey, Mary de Fremery, Alice Hoyt, Mary Shafter, Winifred Braden, Irene Bangs, Gertrude Russell, Mrs. E. C. Prather, Mrs. von Loben Sels.

About a hundred friends were asked for the afternoon, and so many of them responded that the tea was a delightful affair.

KNOWLES' INFORMAL AT HOME.

Miss Alice Knowles has sent out cards for an informal "at home" to be given at the Knowles residence at Linda Vista on next Tuesday. Miss Knowles will entertain in honor of Miss Chamberlain of Santa Barbara, who will be her guest next week. Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain and their daughter, Miss Chamberlain, are at the Hotel Fairmont, where they will spend some days. Miss Knowles is a charming little hostess and the tea will bring together the most intimate young friends of the Knowles family.

MOURNING IN TWO FAMILIES.

The passing of Mr. Casey at Pasadena and of W. J. Landers at Santa Barbara has sent into mourning two prominent families. Mr. and Mrs. Casey and Ruth Casey went south for Mr. Casey's health and he was so much improved that Mrs. Casey and her daughter returned to their home in San Rafael. Mr. Casey planning to return also in the near future. But a change for the worse altered the plans, and to the deep sorrow of many friends Mr. Casey passed away on Thursday at Pasadena.

The Landers family are among the best known families in Alameda county and many friends will hear with deep regret of the passing of Mr. W. J. Landers. He has been ill for some months and the trip that he took abroad for his health did not bring the desired result. The whole journey was a series of accidents and Mr. Landers received little or no benefit from the trip. He has been spending some time at Santa Barbara, and the end, which was not unexpected came on Wednesday.

The Landers family lived for many years at their old home, "The Gables," in San Leandro, and they spent several winters at the Hotel Metropole here. For the past few years they have lived in San Francisco, where they made a large circle of very devoted friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Johnston, formerly Berenice Landers, have been spending the winter in San Francisco.

VISITING IN ST. HELENA.

Mr. and Mrs. William Louis Pattiani have gone to St. Helena, where they are planning to make their permanent home. They have purchased a delightful country place, "Pine Hill Vineyard," and Mrs. Pattiani, who was popular Evelyn Craig, has sent out p. p. c. cards this week to her many friends.

SUTTONS ARE IN NEW YORK.

Mr. Charles Sutton and his daughter, Miss Carmen Sutton, have arrived in New York, en route for California. Owing to the passing of Mrs. Sutton in Paris their home coming is a very sad one, and they have the deep sympathy of the many friends who knew and loved Mrs. Sutton.

MRS. HAVENS AND HER FRIENDS.

One of the most thoroughly delightful afternoons of the winter was planned for some of her friends by Mrs. Frank C. Havens, who will be "at home" on Thursdays to her friends. Mrs. Havens has planned a series of informal teas, at which she will receive coteries of friends, and they bid fair to be far and away the most delightful events of the winter. A talent for entertaining is far more valuable than a talent for many other things, and Mrs. Havens has a perfect genius for making her friends welcome. There is the true ring of cordiality in everything she says and does, and she is so bright, and has such a sense of humor that the hours one spends in her home are among the most enjoyable of the winter. And she is always ably assisted by Mr. Havens, genial always, cordial, hospitable—the ideal host. He is the greatest possible favorite with the young people, for he loves nothing more than to give them a good time.

Mrs. Havens is simply asking a few friends each Thursday to have a cup of tea with her, and the gathering on Thursday was not a large one, but one of the most truly enjoyable of the winter, since one met so many interesting people.

Mrs. Havens was a unique and most charming study in a fascinating gown in pale blue and white tones, accented, and in empire design. She has a most winning personality and in the dainty gown she was a most attractive picture.

You meet your friends at a tea for only a few minutes, and it is very rarely that any of them talk well. There is a great babel of voices, like nothing else in the world, but nobody tries to do much more than exchange a passing greeting with friends here and there. At the usual tea it is how you look more than what you say that counts. But the Thursday afternoons at Mrs. Havens' hospitable home are something so different that one wishes outright she might be asked to every single Thursday in the series. It is rarely that so many well read people are gathered at an "at home" and everywhere one saw groups of interested people.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sterling have come up from their favorite Carmel, and are spending some days with the Frank Havens at Piedmont. Mr. Sterling rarely comes to Oakland and when he does so it is to see "Uncle Frank," to whom his many relatives owe so much, and to whom they are devoted. George Sterling has won much literary distinction, but the honors heaped upon him in a literary way have left him quite unspoiled. Perhaps it is because he knows he has not yet struck his strongest note, and that the best for him is yet to be. He is right to stay there at Carmel, for far in the distance on the wide Pacific is the sky line, and a sense of illimitable distance enters into the horizon. How proud we would be if the greatest poet of modern times were to draw part of his inspiration from the California mountains and the glorious Pacific.

Mrs. Sterling is most charming, with a style of beauty very attractive. She poured tea in the dining room and made a picture well worth watching. Among the guests was Mr. Crippen, a most delightful Englishman, who came from England shortly after the earthquake to represent the London Times, one of England's most conservative papers. There has been so much of interest on this Coast that his paper has kept him here ever since and he will represent the London Times on the arrival of the fleet.

Another very bright conversationalist is Mr. Stephen French, who is so witty, and has such a sense of humor that he is simply invaluable at a dinner.

Among the guests also was General Oscar F. Long, probably one of the best informed men on our side of the bay, and certainly one of the best read. General and Mrs. Long were among the guests whom Mr. and Mrs. Havens entertained at the little informal dinner which followed the tea.

Mrs. Havens was assisted in entertaining her guests by Mrs. Oscar Long, Mrs. Maxwell, Mrs. Willis F. Kelley, the Misses Wickson and Miss Gladys Maxwell.

Mrs. Long was beautifully gowned in a most attractive costume in white effects and she looked exceedingly well.

Miss Gladys Maxwell is Mrs. Havens' niece, and she is a charming young girl, with very sweet, well-blended ways. She is a very popular young girl, who bids fair to be most popular with her mother's friends, and those of her aunt, Mrs. Havens.

Among the very attractive girls whom one meets at many social affairs both in Berkeley and Oakland are the Misses Wickson. They are very stunning girls and exceedingly well read, for they have had the benefit of University training. But they have not let college training absorb all their energies, and they are quite as much at home in the drawing room as they have ever been in the school room.

Among the guests was bright Grace Sperry, whose friends regret that she is not doing more in a literary way. She has much talent and her books for children are simply charming.

Mrs. Henshaw is always beautifully gowned, and she has a most magnetic personality, but her rare charm is her young enthusiasm for art, for literature—for the higher values which make life worth living. She has traveled far and has the culture which travel, more than anything else may bring one, and she is a good student, still viewing life from many standpoints and in a way that is perfectly charming.

A trio of young people standing together attracted much attention—Mrs. Harry Chickering, Anita Thompson and Florence Henshaw. They represented different types, each one striking in her way. Mrs. Heron, with her niece, Miss Parker, was among the guests and others who seemed greatly to enjoy the hour planned for them by Mrs. Havens were Miss Mollie Connors, Mrs. Harmon Bell, Mrs. Traylor Bell, Mrs. Roland Letts Oliver, Miss Allie Grimes, Mrs. Lucie May Hayes, Mrs. Edward Walsh, Mrs. Dimond, Miss Emma Parlier. Mrs. Walsh wore an exceedingly handsome costume in tones of pale lavender.

One listened to lovely music during the afternoon, the leading violinist being very young to play so well, one realized what a fine future he had before him. He is Master James Todd, the only son of Doctor and Mrs. J. H. Todd, and his genius will give him a high place in the world of music in the not very distant future.

ENTERTAINED AT LUNCHEON.

Mrs. Ernest Folger was the hostess on Friday at an informal luncheon at her home on Madison street. Mrs. Folger is so bright, with such a quick appreciation of humor, that she is a most happy hostess. Among the guests were Mrs. John Francis Smith, Mrs. Herbert Moffitt, Mrs. James Moffitt and the Misses Jolliffe.

LARGE CLUB RECEPTION.

One of the largest receptions of the year is being planned by two well known clubs, the Caedmon Club and the Newman Club. The clubs will be the hosts at a large "at home" to be given in honor of President and Mrs. Benjamin Ide Wheeler. The date of the notable reception will be Saturday, February, the fifteenth, and the clubs will receive their friends from four to six o'clock at the clubhouse on Ridge road, Berkeley.

The Caedmon Club is one of the most exclusive of the San Francisco clubs, representing in its membership the names of some of the most prominent Catholic families across the bay.

Among those who take a great interest in the Caedmon Club are Mrs. Eleanor Martin, Mrs. Downey Harvey, Mrs. J. M. Driscoll, Mrs. M. H. de Young, Mrs. Deaver, the Misses de Young, Mrs. Oscar Cooper, Mrs. Keener, Mrs. Andrew Welch, Mrs. J. A. Folger and many others well known among the San Francisco smart set.

The Newman Club is the club established by the Catholic students at the University, and is distinguished for the many lectures from prominent men arranged for it each year.

A large number of invitations have been sent out and the reception will call together so many prominent people from around the bay that it bids fair to be one of the most important social affairs of the winter.

TO ENTERTAIN AT INFORMAL TEA.

Mrs. William Monroe is to be a hostess next week, entertaining at an informal tea at her artistic home in North Berkeley. Friends have been asked over the telephone and Mrs. Monroe is planning one of the informal afternoons which can be made so delightful when friends who knew each other well assemble in an artistic little drawing room.

START ON EUROPEAN TOUR.

Mrs. H. K. Belden and Miss Nadine Belden leave next week for the East and Europe, going directly to Berlin. They are both great travelers and since they gave up their Oakland home they are quite free to travel at leisure, either in the East or abroad. They will go to Berlin, where Doctor and Mrs. Roy Belden are making their home, and where Mrs. Roy Belden has a large family connection.

Doctor Belden met Mrs. Belden when he was practicing dentistry in Berlin, and after their marriage they came to California, and spent some time in San Francisco, Doctor Belden resuming his practice here. They were in San Francisco at the time of the earthquake, after which they went immediately to Berlin, where they have remained ever since.

Mrs. H. K. Belden and Miss Nadine Belden are planning to be away for several months, spending most of their time abroad.

CALLED TO FATHER'S SIDE.

Mrs. Thomas Magee and Mrs. Frank Richardson Wells arrived from the East, summoned to the Coast by the illness of Mr. Valentine Hush. Mrs. Wells has only been a month at her home in Burlington, and she is not altogether strong after her terrible illness of last year, so the overland trip was a hard one for her. Her father tried to live till she came, looking forward each hour to her coming, and Valentine Hush has arrived from Tonopah.

They are a most devoted family group, living through hard trying days. They are such difficult days, so full of sorrow, when the inevitable is at hand, and human aid is powerless to stay the great summons. Their hosts of friends are devoted to all the Hushes, and a deep-loving sympathy is around them.

MRS. DAVID M. CRABTREE

In the dark hours of anxiety which are now their portion.

PICTURES IN THE MEDDLER.

The photograph appears today of Miss Ruth Adams, the charming fiancée of Frank Godfrey, whose marriage will take place February 26th at the home of Mrs. John P. Jackson of Burlingame.

Mrs. Oscar Fitzalan Long will assist at the elaborate card party to be given on the evening of February 18th for the benefit of the children of Fabiola Hospital.

Mrs. John L. Loosley is the sister of Mrs. John F. Merrill of San Francisco. She is prominent in society and charity affairs.

Mrs. David Montgomery Crabtree is an attractive young matron and the daughter of Mrs. J. B. Schroeder of San Francisco.

MISS MATHES' CARD PARTY.

The young people fortunate enough to be invited by Miss Mollie Mathes are looking forward to a delightful time at the card parties she has planned for this week.

Mollie Mathes is a charming girl, so sweet and dear to her friends, so thoughtful of others, that she is easily one of the most popular girls to be found anywhere. She is included in all the many lists and though she is always so popular she is one of the most unspoiled girls one could wish to know.

Miss Mathes has made two dates for her friends, as the drawing room in the family home is not large enough for them all, and among those whom Miss Mathes will entertain are Mrs. Charles Rudolph, Mrs. Ernest Stent, Mrs. Harry Chickering, Mrs. Sylvanus Farham, Mrs. George Jensen, Mrs. Chas. Bates, Mrs. George Chase, Mrs. Traylor Bell, Mrs. Hugh Goddell, Mrs. Walter Starr, Mrs. John Valentine, Mrs. Dan Belden, Mrs. John Lathrop, Mrs. John Overbury, Mrs. Fred Diekmann, Mrs. Philip Clay, Mrs. Challen Parker, the

Continued on Next Page.

Being an Alkaline Liquid Dentifrice, ZOZODONT penetrates all the little crevices of the teeth, neutralizes the dangerous mouth acids and purifies the whole tooth structure, making the teeth strong and well.

Stand by ZOZODONT, and your teeth will stand by you.

THE FOOD VALUE OF Baker's Cocoa

is attested by 127 Years of Constantly Increasing Sales

50 Highest Awards in Europe
and America

We have always maintained the highest standard in the quality of our cocoa and chocolate preparations and we sell them at the lowest price for which unadulterated articles can be put upon the market.

Walter Baker & Co., Ltd.
Established 1780 DORCHESTER, MASS.

DRUNKENNESS A Curable Disease

Eminent Physicians and Scientific Men Agree That It Should be Treated as Such.

Drunkenness is a progressive disease; the moderate drinker is not satisfied with two or three drinks a day, the craving for more and more becomes irresistible as the disease advances; the result is Chronic Alcoholism.

The treatment used successfully by thousands of their own homes is Orin. It is a scientific cure for Drunkenness and has given such universal satisfaction that it is sold under a positive guarantee to affect a cure or your money will be refunded. This guarantee is given in good faith and is carried out to the letter. Orin is not a new remedy, it has been sold by the leading druggists in every city for years. It has lifted tens of thousands from the depths to worthy manhood and has the hearty endorsement of grateful men and women in every State in the Union.

Orin No. 1 is the secret remedy; Orin No. 2 is for those willing to take the treatment. Either form costs $1.00. The guarantee is the same in either case. Write to The Orin Co., Washington, D. C., for the treatise on Drunkenness, mailed in plain sealed envelope. Orin will be mailed sealed on receipt of price. Sold by the leading druggists in every town and city, and in this city by The Oak Drug Company, Thirteenth and Broadway.

Vapo-Cresolene

(Established 1895)
"Cures While You Sleep."
Whooping-Cough, Croup, Bronchitis, Coughs, Diphtheria, Catarrh.

Confidence can be placed in a remedy, which for a quarter of a century has earned unqualified praise. Restful nights are assured at once.

Cresolene is a Boon to Asthmatics
All Druggists

Send postal for descriptive booklet.
Cresolene, Antiseptic Throat Tablets for the irritated throat, of which a dozen are sent free in each bottle.
The Vapo-Cresolene Co.,
180 Fulton St., N. Y.

SPECIAL

We have just received another shipment of Solid German Silver Purse. Regular price $6.00.
Our price this week

$4.00

See them in our window.

W. N. Jenkins
1067 Broadway

Phone Oakland 1124. Phone Home A 4124

NEW JERSEY FARM CREAMERY CO.

Pure Milk, Cream
Butter and Eggs.

S. W. Cor. 15th & Cypress Sts.
OAKLAND, CAL.

Miss E. M. Pack Mrs. M. J. Fike
Artists and Designers
Orders for PORTAITS, MINIATURES, PLACE CARDS
SCORDED and all kinds of artistic wedding promptly executed. Room 503, Central Bank
Bldg.; phone Oakland 3210.

IN SOCIETY

Continued from Pceding Page.

Misses Katherine Brown, Ruth Houghton, Florence Henshaw, Anita Thomson, Carolyn Palmateer, Elise Schilling, Ruth Kales, Rose Kales, Arline Johnson, Josephine Johnson, Beatrice Simpson, Marietta Havens, Lillie Reed, the Misses Havemeyer, Gladys Meek, Harriet Meek, Claire Chabot, May Coogan, Clarisse Lohse, Marian Walsh, Avis Sterling, Alice Knowles, Ruth Knowles, Ella Wright, Anita Davis, Johanna Volkman, Helen Chubbrough, Helen Matthews and Elsie Clifford.

Among the men who will be Miss Mathews' guests are Willard Barton, Fred Samuels, Du Val Moore, Paul Dinsmore, Robert Belcher, Dr. Gaskill, Charles Hubbard, Fred Snowden, Ed. Aiken, Rudolph Schilling, Thornton White, Ben Reed, Prentiss Gray, Will Childs, William Volkman, Dan Volkman, Shirley Houghton, Stewart Hawley, Morton Clark, Arthur Kales, Thos. Knowles.

Bridge and five hundred are the games planned for the amusement of the young people and the card gatherings will be notable dates of the February social events.

COMING WEEK TO BE BUSY.

Next week promises much in a social way. On Tuesday, Miss Alice Knowles will entertain for Miss Chamberlain, and the passing of these days brings Wednesday, the wedding date for Mr. de Fremery and Miss Prather, the dear little bride-elect whom so many people have delighted to honor. On Wednesday evening also will be the wedding of Carolyn Oliver and Mr. Ralph Madison Jones, which is to take place at the bride's home on Vernon Heights. Only the relatives and most intimate friends are asked to be present at the ceremony and at the reception which follows, but they make a goodly company, and they are devoted to the dear bride, who is sweet enough to deserve all the affections lavished upon her.

On Friday evening is the last dance of the Friday Assemblies, which will take place in Maple Hall and for which extensive preparations are being made.

The women's clubs are planning interesting meetings, and the many card clubs have simply gone mad over bridge. It is really amusing to see the many dignified matrons with bridge books under their arms, or poring over the pages, trying to solve the deep problems by which "points" may be made, it reminds one of the old days in school, when we tried to solve our equations, and the values of x and y were our first considerations.

The week will end in a blaze of social glory with the big reception by the Caedmon and Newman Clubs, and that woman must indeed be gloomy of spirit who cannot find something worth while in the long line of social dates marked out for our January days.

One of the very delightful homes at Piedmont is that of the Harvey Lindseys, and it has been this winter the center of much hospitable entertainment in an informal way. Mrs. Lindsay was the hostess this week at a card party, her guests being mostly from the neighborhood, among them many of the most attractive of the younger matrons. Bridge was the card game of the afternoon and later a delicious little menu was enjoyed by the guests.

Among those whom Mrs. Lindsay entertained were Mrs. Isaac Upham, Mrs. Kenneth Louden, Mrs. Walter Starr, Mrs. Clinton Walker, Mrs. Challen Parker, Mrs. McClure Gregory, Mrs. Charles Parcells, Mrs. Dan Belden, Mrs. Harry Parr, Mrs. George Chase, Mrs. Traylor Bell, Mrs. J. P. Neville, Mrs. John Valentine, Miss Clarisse Lohse, Miss Louise Hall, Miss Chrissie Taft.

"HAMLET" A GALA EVENT.

The event of the week in Oakland was the premier performance at the Liberty Theater of Mr. Richard Hotelling's "Hamlet." That this character, by common consent the most difficult of Shakespeare's creations to act should have been attempted by Mr. Hotelling with such great success speaks volumes for that gentleman's talent. He was letter perfect in the long and difficult part and in some scenes, notably the scene with his father's ghost and with his mother in her chamber he rose to great heights. Every successive performance has been an improvement on the one which preceded it and Mr. Hotelling has every reason to be proud of his professional debut.

Socially, as well as artistically, nothing was lacking. The audience which filled the Liberty Theater was one of the largest and most brilliant ever assembled there and many San Francisco people motored over to add to the festivity of the scene. Among those who had large parties were Mr. Charles K. Field, Mr. Hotelling's intimate friend, who entertained Mrs. Henry K. Field, Mr. and Mrs. Wickham Havens, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Havens, Miss Avis Sterling and Mr. Walter Leimert in one of the large loges.

Mr. and Mrs. William Henshaw, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown, Mr. Frederick Hall and Miss Grimes formed another large party. Among the San Francisco people who crossed the bay for the performance were Mr. and Mrs. Mark Gerstle, who entertained at dinner before the performance. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Deering and Mr. and Mrs. William Gerstle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Conlisk, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Britton and Mr. Myron E. Wolf formed another party who dined together before going to the theater.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dickman entertained dinner guests. Dr. and Mrs. Russell Cool, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Maginnis, Mrs. Hotelling, Frederick Hotelling, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Burnett, Dr. and Mrs. J. Dennis Arnold, Frank Mathison, Percy Kahn, Royden Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Field, John Housman, Mr. and Mrs. Tiley Ford, Miss Relda Ford and Judge Lawlor were among the transbay party of the audience. Others in prominent seats were Mrs. Taft and Miss Chrissie Taft, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Craft, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Denison, Miss Lucie May Hayes and Mr. and Mrs. Luning. On Monday evening a large number of Family Clubmen were present and one of the handsomest floral gifts was from them. On Friday evening the Bohemian Club of San Francisco attended almost en masse and there will be quite as good audiences next week when "Othello" will be presented. Special interest attaches to next week because of the fact that Mr. Hotelling will alternate in the roles of "Othello" and "Iago."

On "Othello" nights Mr. Mortimer, the excellent "Laertes" of the "Hamlet" caste, will be the "Iago" and when Mr. Hotelling plays "Iago" Landers Stevens will be the "Othello."

The third week will be occupied with the "Merchant of Venice" in which Mr. Hotelling scored heavily in San Francisco just before the fire. In all, the engagement lasts three weeks, though it has otherwise nothing in common with Eleanor Glynn.

BRIDGE PARTIES OF THE WEEK.

Several large bridge parties last week in San Francisco marked the close of as brilliant a January as San Francisco has ever known. Whatever may be said of the financial stringency in its effect on Oakland entertainments it has had no visible effect on San Francisco and this season will go down in social history as one of the most brilliant social seasons ever known across the bay. There is no more expensive form of entertainment than bridge and dinner parties and these have been of daily occurrence. From seven to seven-thirty every evening the fashionable western addition is full of flashing cabs and automobiles carrying guests to the many dinner parties and it is a dull dinner indeed which does not end with several tables of bridge, which never break up before one o'clock. Dinner giving has always been considered the most expensive form of entertainment; but it must yield the palm this year to bridge for fashionable bridge parties cost more than any other form of entertainment. There must be a prize for every table and these prizes rarely cost less than $10 apiece and sometimes much more. The refreshments served have been unusually dainty and costly this year so that hostesses figure, with flowers, decorations, new playing cards, scores, extra services, caterers' bills and engraved invitations on $5 for each person which makes a bridge party for fifty cost $250. Almost all of the invitations have been engraved this year which saves much trouble and always looks better.

Among the parties of last week was Mrs. E. Walton Hedges' party for Mrs. Scherwin at which there were four tables of players and a few guests afterward for tea. The prizes were beautiful things of pottery or silver and the supper was unusually dainty and tempting. On the same day Mrs. George C. Boardman entertained the matrons who play bridge and on Wednesday, Mrs. Boardman had several tables for the younger women. On Friday Mrs. Edwin Dimond gave a large bridge party of eleven tables.

This week on Thursday Mrs. Henry Rosenfeld gave a luncheon followed by bridge at Mrs. Nicholson's home in Eighth street. The party was in honor of Mrs. Wickham Havens, whose birthday it was.

Today Mrs. Wickham Havens is entertaining at a large bridge luncheon at her attractive Piedmont home.

Yesterday Mrs. William Prantice Morgan gave a large bridge party at her San Francisco home. Mrs. Morgan was assisted in receiving by her daughters, Mrs. Norris Davis and Miss Eleanor Morgan.

There are a number of big parties for next week, among them Mrs. Alexander Haynemann's party for February 14th, and Mrs. Horace Davis' for February 15th. Mrs. Castle will entertain on two days in succession, February 13th and 14th, and Mrs. Harvey Toy has sent out cards for the 13th.

Mrs. Henry L. Dodge has sent out cards for a large party for February 20th.

DINNERS GALORE.

Never have there been as many dinners as this year. Among last week's hostesses were Mrs. Worthington Ames, who had a large dinner on Thursday evening. Bridge followed.

On Tuesday evening there were three large dinners, Mrs. Rudolph Spreckels, Mrs. Charles J. Deering and Mrs. Vincent Whitney being the hostesses.

Among prospective dinner hostesses is Mrs. E. Walton Hedges, who will entertain at a dinner on St. Valentine's Day, and Mrs. H. M. A. Miller, who has been ill, but who has sent out cards for several dinners during February. Mrs. Miller has been forced to decline many of the January gayeties on account of a severe attack of tonsillitis.

A number of dinners will precede the amateur performance of the San Francisco Players in "Trelawney of the Wells" which is booked for the Alcazar Theater on the evening of Monday, February 17.

RETURNED FROM NEW YORK.

Mrs. Emma Shafter Howard, who went east shortly after her son, Karl Howard's death, has returned from a trip which did her much good. Mrs. Howard visited New York and then went south, spending some delightful weeks at Havana and in Florida. She is now settled at her Pacific-avenue apartments.

FEW TEAS THIS LATE SEASON.

There is no time for teas this late season for so many other engagements fill the days that no one would have time for teas but on Sunday next Miss Blanche Partington will have a few.

Neuralgia Pains

Are the result of an abnormal condition of the more prominent nerve branches, caused by congestion, irritation, or disease. If you want to relieve the pain try Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They often relieve when everything else fails. They leave no disagreeable after-effects. Just a pleasurable sense of relief. Try them.

I have neuralgia headache right over my eyes and I am really afraid that my eyes will burst. I also have neuralgia pain around my heart. I have been taking Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills and they always relieve me. I have been so bad with neuralgia that I sometimes thought I would go crazy. Sometimes it is necessary to take two of them, but never more and they are sure to relieve me. MRS. FERRIER.

Dr. Lyman S. Lincoln, Neb. Your drugist sells Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and we authorize him to return the price of first package (only) if it fails to benefit you. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

Truth and Quality

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing. Accordingly, it is not claimed that Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is the only remedy of known value, but one of many reasons why it is the best of personal and family laxatives is the fact that it cleanses, sweetens and relieves the internal organs on which it acts without any debilitating after effects and without having to increase the quantity from time to time.

It acts pleasantly and naturally and truly as a laxative, and its component parts are known to and approved by physicians, as it is free from all objectionable substances. To get its beneficial effects always purchase the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists.

friends at her home to greet her sister, Miss Gertrude Partington, who is here from New York. On account of mourning almost all of the things in Miss Partington's home have been called off and many of her friends have been seen here.

THE MEDDLER. HILL CLUB.

The Hill Club met at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Chambers Monday afternoon. The program was as follows: Reading from Stoddard's lecture on London, Mrs. J. Allen; reading, "Camilla," the "Camilla" (Mrs. Jackson), by Mrs. W. W. Tucker; "An American in London" (Samuel G. Blythe) was read by Mrs. B. S. Noyes. Miss Genevieve Chambers sang (a) "The Spinning Song," (b) "Slave Song," (c) "Phyllis." Mrs. A. C. Fay rendered several instrumental solos from Hungarian Folk Song.

The club will meet next Monday with Mrs. G. Chambers, 622 Walsworth avenue.

GONE TO NEVADA.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan A. McDonald and their little daughter, Margaret, left for Tonopah Saturday morning, where they expect to remain for a few months. Mr. McDonald having business interests in the various mining districts of that place.

ENGAGEMENT NEWS.

The engagement is announced of Miss Alice Deming and Dr. P. A. Bottazzi of San Francisco. The news was told at a tea given yesterday by Mrs. John S. Merrill and was received with enthusiasm and good wishes by the friends of the popular couple. The bride-elect is the daughter of Joseph G. Deming.

Dr. Bottazzi is well known in San Francisco, having been a supervisor and a member of the board of health. No date has been set for the wedding, but it will be an event of the spring.

Among the guests at the tea given yesterday by Mrs. Merrill were Mrs. Treat, Mrs. William W. Tiffany, Mrs. Henry Payot, Mrs. James Bishop, Mrs. Thomas Porter Bishop, Mrs. William Ede, Mrs. William Harrison, Mrs. Norma Castle, Mrs. Thomas Eastland, Mrs. Charles K. Hartley, Mrs. Andrew Welch, Mrs. Lewis Welch, Miss Maye Sullivan, Mrs. Ellen Pars, Mrs. Gerritt Livingston Lansing, Mrs. Fred Pickering, Miss Edith Bull, Mrs. Fred Knight, Mrs. Walton Thorne, Mrs. Harry Bates, Mrs. Alexander Douglas and Miss Deming.

CARD PARTY.

Mrs. Clarence Irving Gilbert, formerly Miss Ann Cashie, was the complimentary guest this afternoon at a card party given by Miss Edna Hosmer. About twenty-five guests were invited to the home of the hostess in Chestnut street. Five hundred was the game enjoyed during the afternoon.

LUNCHEON PARTY.

Mrs. D. C. Timmerman entertained this afternoon at a luncheon for Mrs. Charles Parcells, who has recently returned from Europe. Among the guests were Mrs. Frank Parcells, Mrs. J. R. Scapham, Mrs. A. H. Breed, Miss Phoebe Smith, Mrs. Benjamin Smith, Mrs. Harry Porter, Mrs. J. W. McDonald, Mrs. W. S. Noyes, Mrs. J. B. Richardson, Mrs. H. P. Bancroft and Mrs. Adel H. Rogers.

LINDA VISTA CLUB.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Dow will entertain the members of the Linda Vista Club at cards on the evening of Friday, February 22, at their home. Among the guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Edward Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Coogan, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Brock, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Heron, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Eby, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Taylor and others.

AT LUNCHEON.

Mrs. R. W. Baum entertained recently at a luncheon given at her home on Vernon Heights. A game of cards followed the luncheon hour. The guests were members of a club.

INFORMAL PARTY.

Mrs. Louise Gage will entertain this evening at an informal card party to be given at her home in Berkeley for her sister, Mrs. Henry Harvey, nee Langworthy.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey have returned from Mexico to make their home in the college town.

VIOLET LUNCHEON.

Mrs. C. C. Westover entertained yesterday at a violet luncheon for Mrs. M. E. Riley. The table decorations were violet hearts with dainty violet place cards and a bill of violet was suspended over the table. After the luncheon there was a cup and saucer shower for the guest of honor.

Among those present were Mrs. Fletcher, Mrs. Spencer, Mrs. Hermos, Miss La Fleur, Mrs. Merle Westover, Miss Delaney, Mrs. M. E. Riley, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Tieght, Mrs. Messenger, Mrs. Sleson, Miss Louise Riley, Mrs. Christiane.

CARD PARTIES.

Miss Mollie Mathies entertained this afternoon at a card party given at her home in Harrison street. Among the guests were Mrs. Ernest Stent, Mrs. Charles Rudolph, Mrs. Frederick Dieckman, Mrs. John Overbury, Mrs. Philip Clay, Mrs. John Lathrop, Mrs. Dan Belden, Mrs. John J. Valentine Jr., Mrs. Walter A. Starr, Mrs. Hugh Goodfellow, Mrs. Taylor Bell, Mrs. George Chase, Mrs. George Jensen, Mrs. Charles Bates Jr., Mrs. Sylvia Farnham, Mrs. Harry Chikering, Miss Helen Matthews, Miss Kalkman, Miss Marie Chubbrough, Miss Florence Henshaw, Miss Anita Thomson, Miss Anita Davis, Miss Ruth Knowles, Miss Alice Knowles, Miss Elsie Clifford,

YOUNG MOTHERS

A mother who is in good physical condition transmits to her child the blessing of a good constitution; sickly, ailing mothers, the reverse. The tiny babe brings to her a living responsibility. At such a time too great care cannot be taken to build up the mother's general constitution, and restore her feminine system to a healthy, normal condition. The greatest assistance that any woman can have in accomplishing this all-important work is

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Mrs. M. Gilmer, of West Union, S. C., writes to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

"I was greatly run down in health, suffering from a weakness peculiar to my sex. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I was not only restored to health but am the proud mother of a fine baby girl. I wish every sick and ailing woman would give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial."

Mrs. Paul Oliver, of St. Martinville, La., writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "For years I suffered from the worst form of female troubles, and the doctor said I could not get well without an operation. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored me to perfect health, and I have the sweetest little baby girl. I will never cease to praise Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.
For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with the worst forms. Why don't you try it?

RUMORED GATES SOLD STOCK EXCHANGE SEAT

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Rumors circulated in Wall Street yesterday to the effect that Charles G. Gates, son of John W. Gates, has sold his seat on the stock exchange and that the street would no longer know either the elder or the younger Gates. Charles G. Gates left yesterday for what he said would be a long stay in California, and it is believed by the brokers in the street that before leaving he severed all connection with the exchange. The firm of C. G. Gates & Co., of which John W. Gates was a member, was dissolved in May of last year and since that time both John W. Gates and his son have been out of Wall Street.

Married Women

Every woman covets a shapely, pretty figure, and many of them deplore the loss of their girlish forms after marriage. The bearing of children is often destructive to the mother's shapeliness. All of this can be avoided, however, by the use of Mother's Friend before baby comes, as this great liniment always prepares the body for the strain upon it, and preserves the symmetry of her form. Mother's Friend overcomes all the danger of child-birth, and carries the expectant mother safely through this critical period without pain. It is woman's greatest blessing. Thousands gratefully tell of the benefit and relief derived from the use of this wonderful remedy. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Our little book, telling all about this liniment, will be sent free.

The Bradford Regulator Co., Atlanta, Ga. Mother's Friend

A Demonstration of Value

It can be made clear to any one that our methods of

DENTAL TREATMENT

are far in advance of many others. Each case is considered carefully, and all work done skillfully and according to the most improved methods. Our CROWN AND BRIDGE work is perfection itself, effected made by us look natural, fit perfectly and wear splendidly. These prices cannot be duplicated.

PRICES
Artificial teeth (full set) $35.00
Gold Crowns, 2-karat $32.00
Gold Crowns, 14-karat $28.00
Gold Filling (quarter tooth) $1.00
Silver Filling $1.00
Hours—Week days, 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Sundays, 9 a. m. to 1 p. m.

Post Graduate Dentists
1058 BROADWAY, OAKLAND 1025 Market St. San Francisco

When You First Try On

the clothing we make to your measure, you realize very much of the value of our tailoring to "buy" other method of clothing yourselves. There is a smartness and individuality to the cut that is impossible in factory-made garments. Have us make you a suit or overcoat now. The price will be as low as the tailoring.

Brown & McKinnon
1115 Broadway
Room 18 Oakland

Murdered King and Prince Borne to Tomb

LISBON MOURNS AT THE ROYAL FUNERAL

Shops Closed, City Draped in Black and Troops Posted Along Route.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) LISBON, Feb. 8.—The funeral service over the bodies of King Carlos and his son Luis Felipe, Crown Prince of Portugal, who were shot to death a week ago today on the Prada Do Comercio in this city, were held in the Church of San Vincente early this afternoon. The ceremonies were simple but impressive and the final act in the bloody tragedy of February 1st was carried to a close without an untoward incident.

The line of the funeral procession from the royal chapel in the palace to the church was guarded by troops, several additional regiments having been brought into the city for the purpose.

All the governments of Europe and America were represented by special missions.

The day was one in which the Portuguese united in prayer for their dead king. This was a day of the burial of their royal dead and also the burial of fellow Roman Catholics and following the custom of Roman Catholics, the people wished to join in some way in the solemn mass which was offered up for the spiritual welfare of Carlos and his son.

Streets Thronged. The streets were thronged with people. They poured in from the country from towns of the provinces and from nearby cities, some by train, some by carriage or by cart and many on foot. In the crowd were large numbers of simple peasants and tradesmen from the provinces, who knew or cared nothing of political strife, but wished only to mourn for the dead King and Prince.

Bits of crepe fluttered from the arms of many persons in the city, yet in spite of these general signs of mourning, the crowded streets suggested to some observers a general fête day, but to others the presence of large bodies of infantrymen and cavalrymen at various points of prominence had a sinister significance, a suggestion of the tragic effect that had come to and of those that might fall on the nation in the near future but which if possible were to be forestalled.

The route of march between the palace and the church was densely lined by the mourning people. One point, however, was carefully avoided by the superstitious Portuguese. This spot on the Prada Do Comercio where the cold blooded murders were committed last Saturday. Had it not been for the presence of a cavalry platoon the part of the Prada would have been absolutely deserted. All the business houses and shops of Lisbon were closed and the ministerial offices situated in the Prada Do Comercio were closed as a measure of precaution. Furthermore, all the windows of these buildings were carefully shuttered.

Yielding to earnest solicitations, King Manuel did not take part in the procession. He and his mother, Queen Amelia and the mother of the late King, Queen Maria Pia, were present at the services in the mortuary chapel and followed the coffins to the door of the chapel, whence they returned to the palace. During the morning King Manuel received the missions sent to Lisbon by the sovereigns and chiefs of state of foreign countries. Neither queen was present at this function.

The funeral cortege arrived at the church of San Vincente at 2 o'clock. It traversed the scene of the tragedy in the Prada Do Comercio in absolute quiet.

In contrast to the sombre occasion the day commenced with glorious weather, the sun shining brilliantly and the air filled with the slow pealing of church bells. Messengers were sent through the streets bearing wreaths and floral pieces. Some of these were remembrances from foreign kings and rulers that were being sent to the palace. Clartons sounded down the principal avenue, announcing the approach of the regiments which later followed the funeral procession. Then from the came the fanfare of bugles summoning the cavalry, which deployed rapidly to guard the route of cortege. In addition to these preparations the streets were filled with swiftly moving vehicles conveying dignitaries to the palace.

Edward and Alexandra Attend Requiem for the Dead King and Prince

LONDON, Feb. 8.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra and other members of the royal family were present at a requiem mass this afternoon in the Catholic Church of St. James, in Spanish Place, for the late king and crown prince of Portugal.

The church, which was draped with crepe, was crowded with members of the diplomatic corps, cabinet ministers, high naval and military officers and other distinguished persons. First Secretary John R. Carter represented the American embassy. The demand for seats was so great that only those with special claims could be accommodated in the church.

The flags of the British warships in the harbor were at half mast in memory of the late king of Portugal, who was an admiral of the British fleet.

MEMORIAL FOR SLAIN KING AND HIS SON ARRANGED BY LOCAL SOCIETIES

MRS. ANN C. MARTINS.

MRS. ISABEL GLORIA LUIS

MRS. S. A. COSTA.

PORTUGUESE WILL HONOR DEAD ROYALTY

Mass Meeting to be Held in Castle Hall to Complete Plans.

Prominent members of the Portuguese colony of Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley are to hold a meeting February 16 in Castle Hall for the purpose of arranging a memorial day program to observe the death of King Carlos and the crown prince of Portugal, who were assassinated February 1 in the streets of Lisbon.

Supreme officers and members of the four Portuguese societies of Alameda county will be present at the meeting which promises to be an interesting gathering.

In the four societies there are about six hundred members.

The Supreme officers of the Portuguese Society of St. Elizabeth are Mrs. Maria C. Tavares, Mrs. Isabel Gloria Luis, Mrs. A. S. Lemos, Mrs. Rita Rogers, Mrs. Julia Smith, M. J. Lourenco, Mrs. Rosa Silvia, Mrs. M. C. Lemos, Mrs. M. C. Enos, Mrs. A. Martins, Mrs. M. S. Brazzil, Mrs. G. Woods, Mrs. Phil Freitas, Mrs. Julia Abreu, Mrs. Jose Leal d'Azevedo.

OCEAN VIEW NOW SCHOOL DISTRICT

The Board of Supervisors this morning held a short session and established Ocean View School district. There were present: Supervisors Mitchell, Horner, Kelley and Bridge. Supervisor Rowe was absent.

It was shown that the new district was asked for by over fifty parents or guardians residing in the same and that there were within the boundaries three hundred census school children.

The new district is bounded on the north by Contra Costa county, on the west by San Francisco bay, on the south by the town of Berkeley and on the east as follows: Beginning at the point of the easterly line of Alameda avenue and the north line of Berkeley, running thence northerly on Alameda avenue to the south line of Posen avenue, thence westerly across the corner common to lots 122 and 123, Peralta Park, thence along line between lots 122 and 123 to southwest corner of lot 5 in Domingo Peralta Home-stead; thence to Sonoma avenue; thence to the northwest corner of Tulare and Sonoma avenues; thence to Solano avenue; thence to Regent's Park and thence to northern line of Alameda county.

SUNDAY TRIBUNE TO BE MOST COMPLETE OF ANY PAPER IN WEST

To Have Splendid New Color Section

Beginning tomorrow the OAKLAND TRIBUNE offers to its readers the most complete and up-to-date Sunday newspaper in the Western field. It has secured, in addition to other features, the greatest of American fun-makers, the famous Walt McDougall, who will contribute each week a page in colors of the drawings which have made him famous throughout the world. The other comic feature is "Little Johnny and the Teddy Bears," one of the biggest hits made in newspaper work. This is also in color. The drawings are by the famous Bray and the verses by Robert D. Towne of Judge.

The frontispiece of the OAKLAND TRIBUNE magazine tomorrow will be a handsome drawing in colors, and a complete study of the latest psychological phenomena by one of the leading experts of the world, under the title of "Whose Life Did You Live Before?" a story showing the possibilities of reincarnation, and those evidences of it which are now being made a special subject of study by the world's scientists.

SPECIAL SECTION FOR WOMEN.

The frontispiece of the section devoted to women is a handsome art production in full color, combining a story of fashion and illustrating those things which are known as the smartest fashions of the up-to-date and well-bred folk. Special pains have been taken to make the woman's section of THE TRIBUNE as complete as it is possible to have it, and cover as wide a scope as possible. In addition to up-to-date letters upon up-to-date things, there is a page devoted to Mrs. Sims, the greatest exponent of beauty in the world, dealing with women and those things which are of interest to them, their form and their beauty.

Another page is by Mrs. Marion Harland, the well-known cooking expert and counselor of the household. There will also be the special pages which THE TRIBUNE has always used in its Sunday service devoted to women all over the world and in every sphere. In other words, the most complete section possible devoted to women.

STORY BY ROOSEVELT TO APPEAR.

President Roosevelt has written a story for boys, which is fully illustrated. There are serial stories by well known authors, and other late features which have been ventured in the newspaper field. THE TRIBUNE has also increased its special service for the cable page. There are offerings by members of THE TRIBUNE staff on local affairs and current topics. Theatrical matters are discussed by Betty Martin, the well-known critic of THE TRIBUNE. Eddie Smith, T. P. Magilligan, Lee Demler and other members of the sporting department will review the sports of the week, and cartoons on timely subjects will appear. In offering this Sunday paper THE TRIBUNE feels it is doing much for the betterment and progress of Oakland.

COMMITTEE NAMED BY REPUBLICANS

Congressmen Elect Campaign Officials—Needham Chosen as California's Representative.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Republican senators and representatives held a meeting in the House of Representatives last night and elected the members of their congressional campaign committee. Several states failed to name their choices and a resolution was adopted empowering the committee to name such representatives in the event that no choice was made by the state delegations by February 15.

The list of last night follows: California—James C. Needham. Colorado—Robert W. Bonney. Delaware—Hiram R. Burton. Idaho—Burton L. French. Illinois—James R. Mann. Iowa—Albert F. Dawson. Kansas—James M. Miller. Kentucky—Joseph B. Bennett. Maine—Edwin C. Burleigh. Massachusetts—John W. Weeks. Michigan—Joseph W. Fordney. Minnesota—James A. Tawney. Missouri—Richard Bartholdt. Montana—Charles N. Pray. Nebraska—J. F. Boyd. Nevada—Senator George Nixon. New Hampshire—Cyrus A. Sullivan. New Jersey—H. C. Lauderback. New York—James S. Sherman. Ohio—Nicholas Longworth. Oklahoma—Bird S. McKurt. Oregon—Blank. Pennsylvania—J. Hampton Moore. Rhode Island—A. C. Capron. South Dakota—William H. Parker. Utah—Joseph Howell.

Vermont—Kittredge Haskins. Virginia—Season Camp. Washington—William E. Humphrey. Wisconsin—J. H. Davidson. Wyoming—Frank W. Mondell. Arizona—Blank. Hawaii—Prince Jonah K. Kalaniana'olae. New Mexico—William H. Andrews. Alaska—Thomas Cale.

MAYOR MOTT TO HEAD RECEPTION COMMITTEE

At meeting of the recently appointed feet reception committee in the council chambers of the city hall last night, Mayor Mott was appointed permanent chairman. Councilman Edwin Meese was elected secretary and C. J. Heesman treasurer. Committees in charge of the program will soon be appointed. Many suggestions as to the lines to be followed in the reception were offered, but no conclusion was reached. It was suggested that the entertainment of the officers and men be either in the nature of a water parade, a march through the streets or a banquet.

TO URGE ERECTION OF STATE BUILDING

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—Plans for erecting a State building in San Francisco for which $500,000 was appropriated at the special session of the legislature in 1905 are to be expedited. A conference was held yesterday afternoon by the governor, Mayor Taylor and Attorney-General U. S. Webb and it was decided that the attorney general should at once advertise in the morning papers for offers of a lot for the new building.

BANKER MORSE ON WAY BACK TO NEW YORK

Takes Return Steamer From Liverpool on Receiving Urgent Cablegram.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) LIVERPOOL, Feb. 8.—C. W. Morse, the New York banker and promoter, who arrived here this morning from New York on the steamer Campana, decided to return at once to New York and he left here this afternoon on the steamer Etruria.

The complete change in Morse's plans was caused by the receipt of a cablegram, from New York. The message was received at Queenstown or by wireless between Queenstown and Liverpool, and when he landed here today he said that he was going to return this afternoon instead of proceeding to the continent.

Morse lingered in his cabin on board the Campana and was the last of the saloon passengers to step ashore. His face bore distinct traces of worry when he finally appeared at the gang way, down which he hurried. It was evident that he was anxious to escape interviewers, and he hastened in the direction of the baggage room. Interrogated regarding his future movements, Morse said he had received a cablegram from New York which had decided him to return home immediately on board the Etruria. It had been his intention to proceed to the continent to look after certain business matters which demanded his attention, but the urgency of the cable had caused the reversal of his plans.

Morse declined to discuss in any way the status of his financial affairs or his prospects of getting out of his reported difficulties.

JAIL CONDITIONS SHOCK JURIST

Judge Cook Declares He'll Send No More Prisoners to Ingleside.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—Judge Carroll Cook, from the bench yesterday, announced that he would send no more prisoners to the county jail at Ingleside. He declared the place unfit for a hog and announced that he would release several young men confined there on probation rather than risk their lives in the place.

The grand jury and the supervisors will investigate the jail's conditions. "The county jail, in its present condition," said Judge Cook, "is no fit place to keep my prisoners. On Tuesday I expect to admit on probation seven or eight youths, as I consider it a crime to endanger their lives or health. When the men are brought before me, should I find any not deserving of immediate release I will make arrangement for their imprisonment in the jail of some contiguous county."

"I never realized the danger to prisoners until I visited the jail on Wednesday afternoon. The affair of the prisoner who set fire to his clothing and attempted to burn himself to death, which occurred while I was there, convinced me that no human being should be detained in the place. When the fire started they had to carry water in buckets to extinguish the blaze and had the thing happened in the night time the loss of life would have been frightful. There is absolutely no fire-fighting facilities and the helpless inmates are completely at the mercy of a few guards, who can carry water in buckets until the flames should drive them back."

"Outrage" He Cries.

"It is an outrage to think of keeping prisoners in the wick occupied by misdeed-mongers. Should another earthquake occur, of one-tenth the force of the big one, everyone in the place would be killed. "After the earthquake of 1906 I am informed a portion of the jail was so badly damaged that the prisoners had to be driven into it by an exhibition of force."

"I am determined that no more of my prisoners will be held in this place. Under Section 1603 of the penal code I am empowered to send them to interior jails, and I propose to do so. I will order them transferred to either Marin, Alameda, or San Mateo county."

The prisoner who attempted to burn himself was Arthur Blessing, held on a charge of assaulting a girl. He was badly injured.

WOMAN IS VICTIM OF CHECK PASSER

Mrs. F. W. Thomas of 618 Eighteenth street is the latest victim of the nefarious check passers in this city. She reported to the police today that an unidentified man had given her a check for $15 on the First National Bank as a deposit on rooms, receiving $2 in change. The bank refused payment on the check.

ROBBED OF LOCKET WHILE HE SLEPT

William Farala of Santa Cruz, a guest for the past few days at the Atlantic House, Ninth and Franklin streets, was robbed last night as he slept of a diamond set gold locket valued at $100. He has reported his loss to the police.

SAN FRANCISCO'S MAYOR WILL WED THIS EVENING

MISS EUNICE JEFFRIES, WHO WILL WED MAYOR TAYLOR OF SAN FRANCISCO THIS EVENING.

Miss Eunice Jeffries to Be His Bride

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—Mayor Taylor will wed Miss Eunice Jeffries tonight, somewhere known only to seven persons.

Neither the mayor nor Miss Jeffries desire any notoriety in connection with their wedding nor do they desire to undergo the embarrassment of a crowd and the deluge of congratulatory friends, which is one inevitable feature of a wedding of which everything is known in advance.

So it happens that although some of the closest friends of the mayor were given to understand yesterday that his wedding would take place tonight no one, except those most closely concerned, was let into the secret of where and at what hour the wedding would take place. One of the guesses hazarded at the scene of the wedding is that it would take place in Berkeley at the home of Miss Jeffries.

U. S. OFFICIALS REPORT STOCK YARDS MENACE S. F.

Government Experts Declare Dangerous Meat Shipped to City, Making Conditions Alarming.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—Federal authorities, who have been quietly investigating the conditions of the San Francisco stockyards, have made a report, declaring them a menace to public health. The findings are contained in a searching report of 1500 words. The four typewritten pages, over which the condemnation is spread, are rife with notes of warning, alarming rehearsals of conditions and bold statements that the safety of San Francisco demands the instant co-operation of the stockyards interests in correcting the abuses and assuring to the city a wholesome supply of meat.

Dr. J. C. Hurley, United States health officer, was in charge of the work, having been detailed to the task by Dr. Rupert Blue of the United States Marine Hospital Service. His report is now in the hands of the citizens' health committee of the Merchants' Exchange. It makes the following general arraignment of the stockyards:

- 1.—Inadequate sewerage.
- 2.—Neglect of offal and refuse.
- 3.—Generally insanitary conditions in the slaughter houses and yards.
- 4.—Antiquated and inadequate buildings and mechanical appliances.
- 5.—Failure to shut off the food supply of rats by proper precautions.
- 6.—Failure to use diligence in preventing the shipment of rat-infected and otherwise objectionable meat.

Juror Protests Against Being Bored by Attorney

By Associated Press.

MACON, Feb. 8.—During the cross-examination of a witness in a State case here yesterday, Juror W. W. Aldoman arose and asked a question which created a sensation.

"What I want to know, your honor," said the juror, "is if we have to sit here and listen to the attorney examine the witness about something that has nothing in the world to do with this case. My time is worth something to me and if the law can force me to sit here and be bored this way I want to know it."

Judge Holman, who was trying the case, remarked that he did not make the law and that as long as he had to suffer that way every day the court was in session, the juror ought to live through one day of it. The jury found against the attorney. Aldoman said it "bored the life out of it."

GOSSIP FROM THE SAN FRANCISCO WEEKLIES

AN EARTHQUAKE NOVEL.

The San Francisco earthquake has been responsible for a great deal of sensational writing, but it is doubtful if anything more melodramatic than the new story by Sarah Deane has been published. The title of the book is "Travers," that being the name of the hero, a military gentleman, desirous of rivaling the fame of Staffles. Travers lost his position in the army and his good name by a little affair in India, where, to shield a woman, he pleaded guilty to having stolen a couple of rings which she had taken. In San Francisco Travers found it necessary to piece out his income by burglary. He planned to rob the residence of Miss Gwendolyn Thornton. While committing the robbery the earthquake occurred. Travers, instead of making off with the young lady's jewelry, tops and saves her life, and after many complications, which carry the reader through the refugee period in San Francisco, the ex-army officer and the young heiress are married. The serious omission in the story is the failure of the author to have the officer elected to the board of boodling supervisors. He could then have confessed and become a witness for the State and the prosecution of the "higher-ups," and in that way a double view of genteel society in San Francisco could have been furnished to the reader.—The Wasp.

GEORGE GOULD AND ADVANTAGES.

As to a man's "advantages," an advantage unearned is a disadvantage. George Gould is an exception. He made his unearned advantage a stepping stone to other advantages. But at the same time, without a start, he might not have started. In my judgment, no man proves his ability to create himself who has been created. Frederick the Great was unquestionably above mediocrity, but he was not self-made. Napoleon and Clive, on the other hand, created themselves, and what they worked with. C. P. Huntington, Commodore Vanderbilt, Stephen Girard and Russell Sage were, as financiers, great men. Brigham Young was a marvelous man. Was he a humbug? Did you ever see a leader who didn't humbug his followers, or a fool who could humbug anybody into following him? Robinson Crusoe was a great baker not because he baked better bread than other bakers, but because, before he could bake his bread, he had to raise and harvest his wheat and build his oven. The world doesn't take into consideration what a man can do if he had the chance. It looks to him who makes his chance. When I hear a workman quarreling with his tools, I consider him a jagleg.—News Letter.

THE DEATH OF O'SULLIVAN.

The death of Denis O'Sullivan has cast a shadow over society and the relatives of the talented actor-singer are prostrated with grief. His sister, Mrs. Sutro, who was Mollie O'Sullivan, started for New York as soon as she received the telegram reporting her brother's death, but at Reno another telegram intercepted her saying that Mrs. O'Sullivan would sail at once for England with her husband's body and it would be impossible for any one to reach New York in time to see her. So Mrs. O'Sullivan goes alone with the remains to London, where her three children await her coming. As a rule the youngsters have accompanied their parents to America, but this time it was not deemed wise to interrupt their schooling, even the youngest child, Bridget, or "Biddy," as she was called by her Irish-loving father, having arrived at the A. B. C. age. The O'Sullivans moved in a delightful circle in London, and their home was the Mecca of all visiting Californians who there enjoyed the privilege of meeting distinguished people not within the ken of the average tourist. One of their most intimate friends was Sargent, the great American portrait painter. A crayon sketch which Sargent made of Denis O'Sullivan is far and away the best portrait of the ballad singer. The Sargent picture is owned by Mrs. Sutro. It was thought when the news of the death was first received that the body would of course be brought to O'Sullivan's home for burial. But I hear that both husband and wife had an understanding that in the event of death calling for either of them the final resting place was to be in a little graveyard in an English village where the O'Sullivans have for years spent their summers. So it is in accordance with his expressed desire that the funeral services will not be held here. Mrs. Thomas Magee Sr., who is a sister of Mrs. O'Sullivan, hopes shortly to join her bereaved sister in London but the delicate health of her only child will not permit her making the journey at present. The papers have stated that Mr. O'Sullivan met his wife, Elizabeth Curtis, while he was studying abroad, and that their marriage was the result of a studio courtship, while both were training under the best masters. But as a matter of fact the Curtis and the O'Sullivan families have been on terms of close intimacy since pioneer days and "Bessie" Curtis and "Neeley" O'Sullivan had formed an attachment before either of them went abroad to study. Fate has not prolonged the married happiness of any of the Curtis girls. Mrs. Paul Cowles, wife of the manager of the Associated Press in San Francisco, died several years ago. Thomas Magee Sr. died not long after his second marriage and his widow makes her home with her parents. And now Elizabeth Curtis O'Sullivan is a widow, too, after a decade of married happiness which was an ideal partnership, for Mrs. O'Sullivan not only wrote plays in which her husband scored a great success but she was his business manager, stage manager and a charming wife and mother.—Town Talk.

THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE

Editor Dargie of the OAKLAND TRIBUNE has no more regard than a drunken longshoreman for a fallen foe. Not content with seeing his beaten antagonist lying on his back, with his feet waving piteously in the air, he desires to kick pieces out of the prostrate man. One would have thought that Brother Dargie's thirst for vengeance would have been more than satiated by Rabbi Nieto's expose of Judges Dunne and Lawlor's complicity in the Ruef immunity contract.

For nearly a year the public had been living in a fool's paradise believing that it was the firm intention of the graft prosecutors to send Ruef to jail for the balance of his natural life. Instead of that it had been all arranged in midnight star chamber sessions to liberate the arch felon who had brought San Francisco to the verge of ruin.

The picture drawn by Rabbi Nieto was an impressive one. He showed us the judges meeting in the gloom of the synagogue at the dead of night. They had been taken to the trust by Detective Burns, apparently acting as their elisor. Doubtless they had avoided the highways and been whirled silently through the by-ways in one of Mr. Rudolph Spreckels' automobiles, or possibly in that of Editor Older of The Bulletin.

The famous burial of Sir John Moore, which has been immortalized in one of the great poems of the English language, was not conducted with greater secrecy, although the military mourners were threatened with the guns of an advancing and victorious foe. Darkly at dead of night, the conference between Ruef's intimate friends and Superior Judges Dunne and Lawlor was held.

Ethically considered, these two judges were in as awkward a position at that meeting as if they had been caught colloquing away out on the sand hills, behind a bush or a fence, with the legal representatives of Patrick Calhoun. A judge is supposed to hold himself, figuratively speaking, as far from both parties in a law suit as heaven is from the place where perjured witnesses go. How would Judges Dunne and Lawlor have liked, if while thus engaged in the sandy suburbs, in arranging a secret compact to turn Patrick Calhoun loose, they had suddenly looked up and found the vigilant eye of a newspaper man's camera taking in the situation to preserve it for posterity. A living picture of the gruesome scene in Rabbi Nieto's synagogue would have been an equally unpleasant memento.

All this was revealed last week and no doubt Editor Dargie smacked his lips over the dish of judicial scandal. Still it didn't satiate him. Ever since he has been dilating upon other evidence to prove the intimate relations between the judges and the graft prosecution. Only a few evenings ago he published engravings of blank orders given by Judge Lawlor to the graft prosecutors to be filled in at the pleasure of Detective Burns' myrmidons, it is said, and used how and when they pleased. The issuance of such orders to the defense would have been a great scandal. Somebody who has influence with Dargie should pull him off, for his assault has reached the stage of brutality. He never knows when to quit as long as his opponent is out of the morgue.—The Wasp.

FORTIFICATIONS FOR SAN PEDRO.

It having been discovered by some keen-sighted observers that it would be easy for an enemy (who had command of the seas) to land a force at San Pedro, and march from thence upon the metropolis of Southern California, United States Senator Flint has drawn the attention of the Secretary of War to this lamentable condition of affairs. The secretary has accordingly requested the Board of Fortifications to report at once upon the defenses of San Pedro harbor. As the facts have already been gathered, the preparation of the report should be an affair of only a few days. As soon as the report is received, Senator Flint will prepare a special appropriation bill, which he will endeavor to have passed during the present session of Congress, so that the work may begin at once. It is estimated that the defenses of San Pedro will cost two millions of dollars. The San Francisco Chamber of Commerce is trying to get an appropriation for construction of several submarine torpedo boats for the defense of San Francisco and other ports on the Pacific Coast.—News Letter.

A VOICE IN THE WILDERNESS.

I am not sure that I disapprove wholly of the Rev. Walter S. Tanner or of his unique method of disturbing the peace of the neighborhood in which he preaches his gospel of ill will to women's clubs, village graft and the houses of public resort that fringe the San Leandro road like bangles on the bracelet of the scarlet lady of Babylon. Dr. Tanner is a Methodist but he doesn't include the doctrine or theology of that sect in his madness. He is trying to reform his wicked environment by denouncing the vice that flourishes perennially in his parish—like weeds in a vineyard, threatening to choke the vines and turn all the grapes sour. Therein I am inclined to say to Dr. Tanner, "Well done thou good and faithful servant." But when I have thus commended the Boanerge of Melrose my encomium halts, awaiting the further movement of the god in the machine—ex pede Herculem.—Town Talk.

MR. HENEY IN OREGON.

Up in Oregon, they appear to be not more greatly impressed by Francis J. Heney's success as a public prosecutor than in San Francisco. Pursuing the same sort of tactics he adopted in San Francisco, Mr. Heney has been giving nearly everybody immunity in order to get the "higher-ups" in jail, but unfortunately, nobody is jailed.

The Spectator, a vigorous Oregon newspaper, which is edited by Hugh Hume, formerly of San Francisco, has been figuring up just what Mr. Heney has accomplished in the prosecution of land thieves. The efforts of Mr. Heney remind Editor Hume of the story of the mountain which labored and brought forth only a mouse. Mr. Heney created a great stir when he went to Oregon, and he pointed some scores of cowering land thieves that he intended to send to jail at once.

"I'll get you," he said, "and put you where you belong," but he has not placed them where they belong. Mr. Hume says that Mr. Heney has dismissed the indictments against an army of men whom he had threatened. The sum of Mr. Heney's achievements appeared to be that John H. Hall is on trial "for trying to defraud the United States by enclosing public land." The Spectator says that there is some propriety in the question, "has justice been well served in the prosecution of the land fraud cases?" There is some truth in the answer, "It has not."—The Wasp.

THE ALAMEDA CRUSADERS.

Alameda, the home city, is awakening from its slumbers. While it dreamed dreams contentedly in the sunshine, and flattered itself as the prime city of schools, of education and refinement, the administration was winking at all kinds of gambling! Alameda suddenly woke up!

What did the Alamedans find? He found the nickel-in-the-slot "Dewey" machine, percentage poker, poolselling and handbook games in full blast!

He found the youths of the city contaminated. He found boys of sixteen and eighteen in the gambling rooms. He found the selling of liquor to minors. He found all the evidences, visible and invisible, of a "wide-open" town. Was the new administration pledged to this before its officials were elected? The News Letter does not wish to think so. It is time to smoke out the real and the false! Who, among the city officials, is it that is in favor of this kind of wide-open "live town?"

A town may be alive, may be busy, thriving and up-to-date without these evidences of a low moral plane. The most shameful thing in connection with the crusade is the fact that citizens of some standing openly defend these gambling schemes, these devices to debauch the youth of Alameda. If vice is a good thing, why limit it at all? If gambling is the best evidence of liveliness, why not license one gambling hell in every block? You wise men who want "lively" times in Alameda, why not have a brothel, the natural companion of race track gambling, next door to every home? If you are going to stand for the race track game, stand for it good and hard for everything that is nasty goes with it! If your boy is going to be a gambler, let him be an expert. Don't hinder him in his ambitions. Here is the ladder to ultimate race track fame—nickel-in-the-slot-poker-race-track-defaulter and thief—prison or suicide. It never varies. Alameda has a chance to relieve herself of an embryo school for criminals, a preparatory school for Emeryville. This school has had classes in charge of licensed teachers in all parts of the city. What is Alameda going to do about it?—News Letter.

A WELL BEHAVED MOB.

I am inclined to modify some of my remarks regarding the provincialism of New York. I learn from the daily press that the "nuptials" of Count Szechenyi and Gladys Vanderbilt were unattended by the riotous proceedings that usually celebrate a "high noon" alliance of "international" magnitude. The mob was numerous but it was not ferocious; it gawked and gaped but it did not tear itself to tatters in the effort to break the police line and carry the altar by assault; it was a decent, self-respecting mob of New York's "middle class" inhabitants, largely composed of the "unemployed" who thus economized their recreation by attending the Szechenyi-Vanderbilt wedding instead of the matinee performance of the East Side vaudeville shows. I am glad to be able to say this much of a New York wedding mob. It indicates that the "masses" are beginning to set a good example for their "betters." If the mob continues to improve in this direction I may some day record that the polloi of the American metropolis has acquired the metropolitan habit of staying away from the marriage fetes of the American nobility.—Town Talk.

A DISGRACE TO AMERICA.

The acquittal of Harry Thaw on the grounds of insanity, or any other grounds, is another disgrace to the American judicial system. It is about two years since Thaw deliberately shot Stanford White in a New York music hall, in the presence of a great number of people. There were plenty of witnesses of the crime, and Thaw was at once arrested. Under anything like a decent administration of justice, the prisoner's case should have been disposed of in two months. That would be a very liberal allowance of time. Instead of months, however, years have been spent juggling with justice, and destroying whatever respect the masses of the American people have for the laws of their land. As long as it will take two years for cases that should be tried in two weeks, and as long as murderers can hire fine legal talent, can tangle up the feet of Justice, and escape the gallows through the gates of an insane asylum, crimes like that infamous one of Harry Thaw will continue to be perpetrated, and the American government will continue to be disgraced.—The Wasp.

A STRONG BOND MARKET.

Brokers on the local Stock and Bond Exchange report a quieter tone in the market for local bonds, which have been remarkably active for some time past. Prices, however, remain firm, which gives rise to the belief that buying will begin again before long. According to a report from the exchange, the sales of bonds in January last aggregate in value the sum of $1,070,000, which was $285,000 in excess of the value of the sales for the same month in 1907, showing that money has become quite easy again in this city. The sales of local stocks last month amounted to 8214 shares, as compared with 15,514 shares in January, 1907.—News Letter.

AS TO EVENING PAPERS.

There was a note of poignant anguish in the reverberating peal of alarm which the Bulletin sounded the other day by way of accompaniment to the simple story of the prospective birth of a new evening paper. From the volume of noise with which the Bulletin broke the news it was evident that the expectation of a rival is conducive to profound emotion in certain quarters. No other daily paper thought the news of sufficient interest to give it publicity. Not even the Daily News, which is in the Bulletin field, thought it worth while to yield any of its valuable space to the story. And yet the story is not the result of a hashish smoker's dream or the vision of a dope fiend; nor is it an hallucination conceived in a fantastic corroboree of wandering wits. There has been talk of a new evening paper for many weeks, and the talk has not been confined, as the Bulletin would have us believe, to the "associated villainies." It has been long apparent to more than one group of men in this city that while the evening newspaper field has not been enlarged a large section of it has been vacated. This phenomenon became apparent when the OAKLAND TRIBUNE invaded the local field, and without attempting to build up a home circulation picked up a daily street circulation of seven thousand. From this circumstance it became obvious that our local evening newspapers were not giving all the people of this city exactly what they desired. And the TRIBUNE'S invasion, be it remembered, did not begin until after the Bulletin, learning that the News had ordered a new press with a capacity of 52,000 an hour, cut its price in the hope of killing off its rival.—Town Talk.

AT THE FAIRMONT.

Mrs. Dick McCreery, the former Lady Grey-Egerton of England, has been spending a week or so in town at the Fairmont with her close friend, Mrs. Frank Carolan, and has been the center of attraction at the big hostelry. She and Mrs. Carolan are inseparable, albeit it is noticed that Mrs. Carolan does not follow the example of Mrs. McCreery and Mrs. Oelrichs and smoke in public. Mrs. McCreery is a handsome woman with lots of style, although not a striking beauty, but her gowns are very smart and she wears them well.—The Wasp.

A WONDERFUL PROPERTY.

The Florence mine of Goldfield has a fine record, according to the latest statement of the company, having, in addition to the high grade ore developed by the leases, large bodies of milling ore blocked out, sufficient, it is said, to keep the new mill about to be erected running for many years. A large portion of the new plant is on the ground, and the work of installation is now in progress. Owing, however, to the fact that a portion of the machinery has been delayed in transit, the president of the company is quoted to the effect that it will be three months yet before the mill can possibly be run. The Florence is said to be the only mine in the district which has not found it necessary to sell treasury stock.

Its leases have made it self-sustaining from the first. After paying last month its first dividend of $105,000, it has $500,000 in its treasury, after paying for its mill.—News Letter.

RICHARD M. HOTALING AS HAMLET.

Mr. Hotaling made his first professional appearance last Monday evening at Ye Liberty Playhouse in Oakland, as Hamlet in Shakespeare's tragedy, supported by H. W. Bishop's stock company. The handsome theater was crowded to the doors with an audience that contained hundreds of the personal friends of the actor. Fellow-members of the clubs in which Mr. Hotaling has long been popular went from this city in force to manifest their interest. Prominent society people were present in numbers, and a more brilliant or more enthusiastic assemblage has rarely filled an Oakland playhouse.

At the close of every scene in which Hamlet appeared, and often punctuating the progress of the play, the applause was impetuous and long-continued, and it must have warmed the heart of the new star as he felt its inspiring force. But rising higher than this acknowledgment of the sympathy, praise, and good wishes of his friends and the public must have been the exaltation of a consciousness that he had justified his choice, that he had proved his ability, that he had sprung full-panoplied into a career for which he was eminently fitted.

The success which Mr. Hotaling has won at his first appearance is actual, and the realization of such a fact comes as quickly to the actor as to his audience, where the greater number would have been kind rather than critical. Mr. Hotaling gave convincing evidence that his desires were well founded. He belongs to neither of the two classes of amateur actors, of which one aspires without knowledge of labor to dramatic eminence, and the other relies on the elocution of the schools for success. He is a student, as well of stage technique as of the playwright's work, and possessing imagination and artistic insight, approaches his task with indispensable aids. He is gifted with an impressive figure, a graceful carriage, and a remarkably full and melodious voice.—Argonaut.

ALL OFF.

The Society Vaudeville, which was so successful recently at the Chutes, and which was to be repeated this month in Oakland, has been abandoned. It is just as well. Local charities will need the young ladies' aid again. It is a bad policy to test the generosity of the public too often.—The Wasp.

COOLING THE COMMITTEE.

Charles Morgahan, one of the proprietors of "Morgahan's," well-known restaurant on Ellis street, was taken into the police court as a result of the waiters' strike. Some of the waiters who walked out and tried to leave Mr. Morgahan in the lurch began to parade up and down before the restaurant and annoy customers when they found that other waiters had been hired to fill their places. Mr. Morgahan, growing tired of such tactics, hitched up the hose to the water pipe and by a well-directed stream abated the ardor of the sidewalk committee very quickly. They rushed off like drowned rats and obtained a warrant for Mr. Morgahan, and he was arrested for battery. It was noteworthy, however, that the hose was effective in all that it was intended to do, for no pickets have been seen since the pioneer band left a trail along Ellis street like the track of a water-spout.—The Wasp.

BILL DEVEREAUX WILL VERY LIKELY SIGN FOR SEASON WITH SANTA CRUZ

MOST POPULAR PLAYER IN COAST LEAGUE MAY DESERT

Inducement Made by Sand Crabs Are So Good That "Red Dog" Will Probably Sign in a Few Days.

BY T. P. MAGILLIGAN.

That the Oakland baseball club will lose Bill Devereaux is now the opinion of all who follow the baseball situation closely. Devereaux has not signed with any one yet, but it is believed that it will be only a matter of a week at the outside before he will affix his signature to a Santa Cruz contract.

The Oakland management made Devereaux an offer recently which is far from being as attractive as the inducements held out to him to play with the Sand Crabs.

Devereaux would not say what his intentions were, when asked yesterday, but he did not enthuse over the prospects of playing with the Oakland team.

It is said that Oakland raised Devereaux's salary only $12.50 a month over what he was getting last season, while Santa Cruz bettered the figure by at least one hundred dollars a month.

It is also said that the Santa Cruz management is contemplating putting Devereaux in a business venture at the surf city, which will make the job of playing with that team all the more attractive.

Whether Devereaux will sign with Santa Cruz or not remains to be seen, but it is the opinion of most of his friends that he will line up with the Sand Crabs this season.

Fred Perrine, the best umpire that has been on the Coast League staff in recent years, is having a hitch in his negotiations with President Dwyer of the league. Perrine is looking for a boost in salary, but so far the league has not come through. If ball players are raised there is no particular reason why an umpire should look for an extra wad of the filthy lucre, as his job is about the most thankless in the world, and besides, good umpires are far scarcer articles than good ball players, and Perrine is about the most satisfactory that has handled an indicator in the Coast League for years.

Nick Williams and Charley Irwin of the San Francisco team are still malcontents. Williams declares that he is to be business manager of the Seals this year, but says that the management of the team has shown an unwillingness to pay him the same salary as Wheeler received last year. So far as playing ability is concerned Williams has it on Wheeler and every angle of the game. Unless San Francisco has better reasons that the writer can see it looks as though Williams should get as much salary as Wheeler, but then that is a financial question with which the writer does not care to deal. One thing is certain, Williams is a much better ball player than Wheeler ever was, and will improve, while it's a cinch that the former shortstop, pitcher and utility man will start a journey on the tobacco trail.

Danny Shay, who played with New York last season, has been turned adrift by the New York Nationals. If any chance can be played on Eastern roads, here is a chance for Oakland to pick up a ball player that knows the game. He is a hustler and is a good drawing card. Ken Berry of Los Angeles is also being shopped, but no reason why the local management should not give him a battle for the services of such a player.

Truck Eagan has signed his 1938 contract to play with Oakland.

McFarland, Oakland's new pitcher, sent in his signed contract to Ed Walter yesterday. Looks as though Oakland is lining up its team in great shape.

Johnny Hopkins, the midjet performer, has signed for the season with the Com-muters.

Announcement of the sale of "Rube" Waddell, the eccentric southpaw, to the St. Louis Browns by the Philadelphia Americans was made yesterday. Until recently it was thought that Connie Mack was the only man in the world who could handle the "Rube," but it now looks as though McAleer of the Browns is willing to take a chance with insomniac.

GLEASON HAS AT LAST LANDED FEBRUARY CARD

McFarland Will Be an Attraction This Month With Either Unholz or Welsh; Flynn-Sullivan Contest Tuesday.

BY EDDIE SMITH.

The fighting situation for the month of February is clearing up and it looks at this time as if Jack Gleason had landed a card for his February date. Jack has been negotiating with Packey McFarland for the past week or more in an attempt to get him to come to the Coast, but up to last night he was unsuccessful in securing a promise from the clever Easterner.

Freddie Welsh, who is expected to be McFarland's opponent, has been anxious to get to the Coast for some time and a short time ago he wired Jimmy Coffroth that he would be willing to meet any fighter that might be selected for him. Coffroth, with this request for a match to work on, immediately matched him to box Johnnie Murphy at Colma on Saturday afternoon, February 29th. Now that he has accepted Gleason's date with the Chicago fighter, Coffroth, of course, will either call the Murphy match off or try to keep the English fighter from meeting McFarland.

Welsh will list to what Coffroth has to say to a certain extent, for he is friendly with Moran and realizes that Coffroth was responsible for the brother Britisher picking up a snug fortune before he left the Coast.

The chance to meet McFarland will appeal to Welsh and it is almost a certainty that the card that Gleason will offer to the public will be a twenty-round contest between Packey McFarland and Freddie Welsh.

Gleason received the final answer from Harry Gilmore, manager of McFarland, yesterday, which makes it appear that the manager and fighter must have considered the San Francisco offer the best out of a good many.

McFarland is a much-sought-after fighter and during the last few days it looked as if he and his manager were playing a waiting game to see who would be the highest bidder. There has been so much talk about this McFarland bout that the fans are dead anxious to see him in action and no matter who he is pitted against the chances are that he will prove a great drawing card.

Gleason would much prefer to put him on with a local man, however, and if it is possible to secure one he will substitute one for Welsh. Jack would like to sign Bob Unholz for the opponent to McFarland and when Joe Thomas, who is managing the boxer, arrives today he will be asked to allow the two fight sensations, go on this month with McFarland.

Unholz is not exactly a local man. He has been given the credit of beating Battling Nelson, however, who is better known here than any other fight town. The Boer is on his way to Milwaukee where it is reported he has a theatrical engagement awaiting him, but the chances are if Thomas wants to sign him with McFarland and the inducements appeal to the Boer, he will come immediately to San Francisco and prepare for the contest.

WAS NELSON TRAPPED
Jimmy Brit and Battling Nelson signed the final agreement in their articles for their contest in the south yesterday, the date being fixed for February 25th, and the weight at 133 pounds at 6 o'clock.

It has now become known that Nelson had no idea that he would ever be given the 5 per cent bonus that he asked for and that he asked for it with a view of stalling the Brits off until he had heard definitely how his chances were for a fight with Packey McFarland in San Francisco.

The Brits giving in to his demand left no loophole for him to crawl through, so when the word came from Jack Gleason that McFarland was willing to agree to the Dane's demands it was too late for the Brits had already agreed and had the name placed on record as saying he would take Jimmy on in a ten-round bout in the south.

Nelson is entitled to some credit for getting the 5 per cent bonus, but as he is anything but a short distance fighter and as he would have a much better chance to beat McFarland in twenty rounds than he would to beat Brit in ten rounds, it looks as if the Britter had been caught in his own trap.

SULLIVAN-FLYNN TUESDAY.

Tuesday night Jim Flynn and Jack Sullivan will meet at Los Angeles in a ten-round bout with the big gloves, the contest will be governed by the same ruling that the Unholz-Nelson contest was.

The feeling between Jack (Twin) and Flynn is not the best and when they hook up the people in the south can look for a battle royal. Both the men are as rough as it is possible for two Queens-berry artists to be and if the contest is not a rough and foul one it will be a great wonder.

When the two men were training at Shannon's in San Rafael, Sullivan for Squires and Flynn for Ward, it was all the other man in the camp would do to keep the pair from having it out several times in the good old rough and tumble style. The referee of the contest Tuesday night will not have to give decision, but his job will be anything but a desirable one.

MACLISE'S FINE WORK IS FACTOR IN OAKLAND'S WIN

Oakland High School's basketball five, by playing a much superior and more aggressive article of basketball, defeated the Stockton team at the Reliance Club yesterday afternoon by a score of 21 to 14. It was a pretty game and well contested at points. MacLise made the most brilliant play of the game, a pretty throw for the net. Oakland's five showed the benefits of careful coaching and they played together like veterans. Stockton was very ragged at times in their play. Cooklin, the captain of the visiting team, played the best game for his side. His work was brilliant. He made twelve of the fourteen points scored. Smith and Dunham scored six points each for Oakland, and MacLise made the other nine. Hook and Thomas alternated as umpire and referee. The line-up: Oakland—MacLise and Dunham, forwards; Harris, center; Smith and Peterson, guards. Stockton—Holstola and Morrell, forwards; Dickinson, center; Morton and Conklin, guards.

Gaelic Sports for Ingleside

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—Tomorrow afternoon, commencing at 1:30 o'clock, the Parnell and Emerald will try conclusions at Gaelic football on the Ingleside side track enclosure. Immediately following the football game two hurling teams, represented by the Sarsfields and the Young Irelands, will occupy the arena. There is a great interest in the Irish colony over the outcome of the Gaelic football game, as the two teams are old rivals and a close contest is generally witnessed when they come together. Many of the participants have taken part in the championship games in Ireland and have not been seen in competition here. Each team of the four contestants is a member of or affiliated with the recently organized Irish-American Athletic Club, of which Richard M. Tobin, secretary of the Eibernal Bank, is president. There are many champions in the football teams who will make their farewell bow to the public in this game and the opportunity should not be lost to those interested in this exciting sport. Favors representing the colors and regalia of the teams will be won by the ladies who attend and each team will have its own rooting section. The committee in charge of the games has made arrangements for a good car service to and from the grounds.

Maurice Thompson Sustains Injury

An accident to Maurice Thompson yesterday put the everlasting kibosh on Coffroth's proposed preliminary to the Ketchel-Twin Sullivan bout. Thompson was to have boxed ten rounds with the Australian lightweight, Lyn Truscott, but while sparring with Ketchel, for whom he was working as sparring partner, he fell and so badly injured his knee that he will be under the doctor's care for some time to come. It is possible that Fred Ward, who was recently beaten by Truscott, will take his place, as he seems to think Lyn's victory over him an accident.

Young Ketchel and the Sullivan twin are preparing to entertain vast throngs at their respective training quarters tomorrow afternoon. Besides putting on the milder sort of gym work, from soup to nuts, the Sullivan boy will box ten rounds, six with Philadelphia Billy Burke and four with Truscott, his trainer. He is at Shannon's San Rafael resort.

Ketchel will spar six rounds with Kid Lafayette, a Sacramento middleweight, after which he will let the public in on his real weight.

ST. LOUIS FIVE Break Record
ST. LOUIS, Feb. 8.—In a contest here yesterday between local teams on regulation alleys sanctioned by the American Bowling Congress the Koenig Kal-

Oakland High Wins Ball Game

In a practice game of baseball last Thursday afternoon the Oakland High School nine defeated White's academy team in Berkeley by a score of 8 to 1. Dill, Oakland's pitcher, allowed only five hits and walked but three men. Ebershaw made a sensational catch in play, making their sole tally in the ninth inning on a walk, a balk and a dinky hit.

High Schools in Dual Meet

The rivalry between the Oakland and Berkeley High School athletes is so keen that a dual meet between these teams is likely to be arranged. The football teams are so evenly matched that they do not care to allow the larger meets to settle the question of superiority between them. A dual meet between them was talked of last fall, but the football schedules interfered with the plan. These teams are such rivals that they do not care to allow the larger meets to settle the question of superiority between them. A dual meet between them was talked of last fall, but the football schedules interfered with the plan. These teams are such rivals that they do not care to allow the larger meets to settle the question of superiority between them. A dual meet between them was talked of last fall, but the football schedules interfered with the plan.

Expel harmless, through the natural channels, all impurities from the system (for circulation) with Lask's Bitters.

Courant's Manhattan Cocktails Are the talk of the town. For mixed drinks go to the Calhoun Hotel bar.

KEOGH AND HUESTON IN ACTION DURING CHAMPIONSHIP POOL GAME

KENWOOD HANDICAP GOES TO TOM SHAW

Winner Noses Out Elevation and Bucolic In Hard Drive--Choices Run Badly --Jockeys Escape Death.

BY LEE DEMIER.

Bettors were badly treated at Williams Park yesterday. The meeting was glorious however, and the large crowd in attendance had plenty to talk about when the day's sport was over. For a time it seemed as though it would result in a day of accidents. As the horses were returning to the stand after the first race Gold Bar stumbled and fell, throwing Jockey Hildebrand. The boy fell under the horse and for a time it was believed he was killed. After the fourth race St. Francis also fell, dashing Keogh heavily to the ground. Fortunately the track is soft and both lads escaped with only a severe shake-up.

Confessor, which was elected to win the fourth of the Breeding Bureau series, lost all chance he had of winning when Harris lost his stirrup, just as they broke from the barrier, and was left at the post. Watchful was the running foot of the balance and easily disposed of them when ready. Taucered out-gamed integrity, because the latter was poorly ridden.

This was Thurber's day to shine, and after shaking off Williams he came on and left the large field of three-year-olds, which lined up in the second race, two lengths behind Cozytus, after a rough journey, held the first coming Billy Watkins safe for the place. Williams, after showing a world of speed, dogged it badly.

Orate was away on her toes in the half race, took the center of the track where the going was good, and tumbled all the way. In a hard drive Hazel nosed out Minnie Bright for second place. Hazel stumbled badly near the wire or might have given the winner an argument.

Five horses passed under the wire with scarcely two lengths separating them in the Kenwood handicap, and finished race-goers with one of the prettiest finishes seen in many days. The result however, was hardly satisfactory to the talent, as both the well-played horses, St. Francis and Cloudlight, brought up the rear. Tom Shaw, quoted at $5, got up just in time to nose out Elevation for first honors, and Bucolic out-gamed the others for the show. The choices set a sizzling pace the first part but found the weight rather burdensome and blew up when the pinch came.

The Captain demonstrated that he was some horse, when after trailing his field for the first mile in the endurance race he thundered down the stretch like the Oregon Express and moved down the leaders one by one, passed five judges' stand six lengths to the good. Wolfville did the best he could under weak handling and saved the place from Dardom. Celebes and Grombol chased one another for a mile, then checked it up. When Davis gave Joe Coyne his head in the closing dash, he shot to the front and left his field as if they were tired. McClain to the Englishman stopped riding when near the wire and allowed Eudora to steal the place from him. Judges fined McClain $50.

Small but interesting fields comprise today's racing program, and sports of the gilt-edged (order should develop) The Palace Hotel Handicap with $2000 added is down for decision and has attracted a surprisingly small field. Five well known performers are named in the Wright nominations and there is a possibility of Montgomery being an additional starter. Rapid Water is assigned top weight of those booked thus far, and with all his class it looks as though the son of Rapalo will have the Keene pair to beat. Johnny Lyons has a royal chance and Keep Moving has shown his best form, so even though the field is small the contest should result in a real "hoss" race.

Bettors and bookmakers alike approved of the Breeding Bureau Purse being first instead of last on the card.

Directly after the last race, Jim Grant had a force of men at work on the track.

In front of the judges' stand, where quite a number of spills have taken place. A good move at the right time.

The only horse scratched on yesterday's program was Toby.

Watchful, which won the breeders' race, bid farewell to the turf world yesterday. "Let us give thanks."

Back to his first love—Harry Froelich has sold Fairview to Mike Hayes for $1200.

Joe Coyne was much the best horse in the last event. He was shut off early, but worked round his field and won easily by six lengths.

In the past two weeks, horses that have shown some reversal of form have changed hands.

Jockey McClain was fined $50 for not persevering with the Englishman in the last race. He certainly should have finished second to Joe Coyne.

Commence Jake Holtman, whose work at the barrier has been par excellence during his engagement at Williams Park, will leave tonight for Arcadia.

L. F. King (Sniffels) stood to win a barrel of "yens" had Celebes made good.

Suprise, another of "Red" Walker's favorites, was beaten eleven lengths in the second event.

Joe Riley was a very tired horse, and only escaped being last on account of Confessor refusing to break and being left.

Thurs that were let in on the ground floor won a nice bet on the win of Tom Shaw.

Elevation was a "wild" horse yesterday over his previous performance. There was a bunch of coin sneaked around on Stover's bird, place and show. Strange but true, there was no mistake made.

To Billy St. Vincent—I've got to hand it to you for riding Galindo on Wolfville again.

Santa Anita scratches—Mechana, Onata Watan, Vivian, Fyfhack and San Nicolas.

Confessor—Your sins are many.

Thurber was the good thing THE TRIBUNE slipped its followers yesterday.

Grombol: ran in the colors of the Keenes yesterday. It was reported but recently that Harry Stover had bought the Pirate of Penance gelding.

There would have been a high old time at the St. Julian Hotel had Dardom topped yesterday.

Confessor, the favorite in the first event, was left at the post.

Watchful had quite a following in the

Chicago Wants Local Athletes

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—"We will make special efforts to have Leland Stanford and University of California teams at the great athletic meet here on June 10th," said President Cook of the managing committee today.

Despite the fact that Michigan is supposed to be outside the pale of the conference college society, the Wolverines may prove a factor in the big meet at Marshall Field. The managing committee of conference met yesterday to arrange the details for the game and a Michigan member of the committee, W. D. McKenzie, voted with the rest.

The case of Michigan's participation in the meet came up for discussion, when it was brought out that the rules of the committee made it practically impossible to shut the Wolverines out if they felt disposed to come in. The rules of the conference provide that any college which observed certain eligibility rules may compete, but it is not necessary for colleges to bind themselves to seven games, training table rules or other regulations in force with the eight conference members.

Cardinal Men in Fine Form

STANFORD, Feb. 8.—The second preliminary track meet of the season was held at St. Francis yesterday and nearly all of the athletes made good showings. Brown, the freshman from Pomona, proved the sensation of the day, winning from Miller in the quarter mile in 52.5, which is a new record for the event, and the time made in winning the event in the meet between Stanford and California last year.

Maudrell ran in good form in the shortened, two mile, winning easily over six lads in 7 minutes and 30 seconds. Bradford duplicates his performance of last week, winning the mile in 4 minutes and 22.5 seconds. In the high jump, Mar in outdid his best performance, taking first at 5 feet 14 inches, and clearing the bar a minute afterward an inch higher. Reed had his long speed and took both sprints, finishing the 220-yard dash in 22.4 seconds. In the high hurdles, Brad of Utah defeated both Horton and Lanagan, and Gregg took the low sits after a pretty fight with Horton all the way. Bellah, the freshman from Hanford, won the broad jump, Captain Lanagan, Scott, Knocher and Bellah were forced to stop before vaulting on account of darkness. All cleared over 10 feet 10 inches. It was too cold for the weight men to be at their best, Horton putting the shot only 46 feet 8 inches, and Yotter, with a short throw of 120 feet, winning the hammer.

Tribune Will Publish Account of All Games

Now that the baseball season is approaching THE TRIBUNE wishes to send in the line-ups, prospective games and challenges. This paper will publish all such matter that reaches the sporting editor. It will be sure to write on only one side of the paper. Also when games have been played by sure to state when and where. Pictures of individual players will be published if sent in, and from time to time group pictures of amateur and semi-professional teams can be run.

Big Skating Event at Idora Park

Devotees of roller skating are preparing for the big event that will take place in the Idora Park rink next Friday evening when a great masquerade skating carnival will be held and over 2000 skaters in fancy costumes will appear upon the floor. This will be both a leap year and a Valentine celebration and the committee in charge is making plans to the end that it shall be the most pretentious skating event of the season, or for that matter, the most brilliant turn-out since roller skating jumped into popularity on this coast.

The big skating pavilion and runway will be splendidly decorated with flags and bunting and many colored lights. There will be some beautiful lighting effects while the skaters in their carnival dress are swaying over the floor in the two-steps and waltzes and other figures that will be introduced Friday evening for the first time on this coast.

The skating clubs in Oakland, San Francisco, Berkeley, Alameda and even San Jose are taking a deep interest in this carnival. Their members will be out in large numbers.

Provision has been made for the award of eight handsome prizes to those whose costumes are adjudged most beautiful and most original. Four of these prizes will be given to the ladies and four to the men. They will be awarded by the committee. It is expected that there will be about as many spectators as attendants as there are skaters, for the spectacle that will be presented in the immense rink, under its brilliant decorations and lights will be one worth seeing. All during the evening there will be music by a band of twenty pieces. The carnival spirit will prevail and everyone will have a merry time.

St. Mary's Boys Play Basketball

The basketball five of St. Mary's College will meet the varsity five of the California University at the Reliance Athletic Club tonight. The game is to start at 8:30. Two ball games will be played on the campus Sunday, one at 10:30 in the morning and the other at 2:30 in the afternoon. The morning game will be between the Collegians, the second team of St. Mary's College and the Berkeley Merchants.

The afternoon game will be between the Phoenix team and the Garter-Matrons. The game will be featured by the appearance on first base of Hal Chase for the collegians. Krause will pitch for St. Mary's.

Daniels Shows Form at Golf

CORONADO, Feb. 8.—The semi-final rounds over the 18 holes of the competition for the men's championship of the Coronado Country Club for 1938 were finished yesterday. Alvin D. Daniels of Coronado won by the default of George Sturgess of Chicago, and Alexander Reynolds of the San Diego Country Club (Berkeley, W. A. Alexander of the Exmoor Golf Club, Chicago, and the Abnashale Country Club, Pasadena, 5 up and 4 to play.

Breeding Bureau Purse on account of Keogh having the mount.

The "Gyness" planned an old-time hog killing on Altair. They kept their tickets.

It is said that the Seattle poolrooms were flooded with Altair money.

Owner Ed Trotter and his friends showed Joe ring with The Englishman coin. They were a disappointed lot after the race.

Charley Brant put a few more sacks of oats in his barn when his good breed winner, The Captain, made good.

Jockey Gilbert and The Captain seem to know each other. The "Old Skipper" was badly outrun the first part, but gradually won down his field and won in a gallop by six lengths.

The ring was flooded with Orante money in the baby runs. Minors also came in for a strong play, being played from 25 down to 10 to 1. But the Griffin filly never had a chance to show what she was made of, being left at the post.

Tom Shaw ran like a good race horse after a nice let-up. Cloudlight rode St. Francis on his broad, which accounts for where they both finished.

Deacon McGuire In a Dual Role

BOSTON, Feb. 8.—There must be an utter absence of brains in the composition of the Boston Americans, for Manager Jim McGuire has written Treasurer Hugh McBrean that he will act as captain of the Red Sox in 1938 and will not ask for any more money for so doing. The Deacon sends this early announcement of his plans to the home office in order that there may be no ill feeling among the men, for the Taylors have been so shaken up that each man from the minor leagues thinks if he presents credentials he is sure to be selected as the field leader.

Among his regulars McGuire will have only one veteran—Bob Unglaub—and Sir Robert had a trial last year both as manager and captain. He was a failure in the first capacity, due, he says, to interference by John I. Taylor, and also was a lemon as a captain, being obsessed by the sense of his own importance. Bob, not being up to date on Ban Johnson's bulletins, tried to make a kick in the first game of a double-header and got away with it. McGuire was absent from the tea that time, and when Unglaub was barred from the second game Bob wanted to forfeit it on the ground his banishment for the day was illegal. McGuire knew the Johnson ruling, that a man who kicks himself out of the first game also bores himself out of the second, and then decided Unglaub would not do as a field leader. Last season the St. Louis Browns had no captain and they seemed to get along fairly well—much better than the Pilgrims.

Bill Curtis Room 1, Tribune Bld'g Office Open at 11:00.

Here You Are!

MY GUARANTEED SPECIAL DON'T MISS IT

Goes today. This bird will be at a price and will get the coin. Be on hand for the big thing.

My Past Record on File at Office. TERMS: $1 PER DAY, $5 PER WEEK

BETTORS LOOK!
Not a cent to be paid until after our special win, 2 or 3 a week—never more. We are not handicappers or mythical advertisers. We bet our own specials. Why? Bettors who can appreciate a square deal, investigate WILLIAMS & CO., 15 Bacon Block, Oakland, Cal.

CALL ON DR. JORDAN OF THE MUSEUM OF ANATOMY FORMERLY 1051 MARKET STREET

Weakness or any contracted disease positively cured by the latest specialist on the Coast. Established over forty years.

Treatment personally or by letter. A positive cure in every case no matter how long standing.

Write for book, PHILOSOPHY OF MARRIAGE, mailed free—valuable book for men.

DR. JORDAN, 1208 McAllister St. S. F., CAL.

LEAVE THEM HERE

land 2671.

WE are amply prepared to store pianos and furniture in from warehouse at reasonable rates.

F. F. PORTER. 466 8th st.
Phone Oakland 1990.

REAL ESTATE.

REAL ESTATE.

REAL ESTATE.

---

Homes

$7750

Linda Vista

CLARA AVENUE
CLARA AVENUE
avenue cars
FOR OCCUPANCY

and strictly first-class in every particular.
light parties most liberal terms as to either of these very desirable properties.

W. MORRIS
and Owners

OAKLAND

---

The Geo. W. Johnson Co.
(INC.)
411 San Pablo Avenue

$3750
100 feet on east side of Claremont avenue; 175 feet deep. $750 cash.
One block from Key Route station.

$1250
Brand new 5-room cottage; 2b1(10)
Athena Park, Elmhurst; $250 cash.

$2950
Alien street; 5 rooms, bath, high basement, hot and electricity modern;
lot 40x111. $1000 down.

$3500
Thirty-eighth street, east of Telegraph; north side; 5 rooms, bath, high basement; not new, but good.
$500 down.

$3650
In Santa Fe tract; 5 rooms; modern, up-to-date; lot 40x112. $500
down.

$3850
We have a fine 5-room house on Merriman street; 40-foot frontage.

$6750
Must have $1000. A fine pair of brand new flats; have tenants for both flats, $35 and $37.50 per month.

---

W. L. Achard Co.
1070 Broadway Near 12th

CHOICE HOME.
$4000—On 23d street; lot 32 1/2 x 108; near Telegraph; modern five-room cottage, with porcelain bath; gas and electricity.
This is an exceptional good buy, being located close to the Key Route and in a neighborhood where property is continually on the increase. This cottage could be raised and flat put underneath, thus making an income of at least $80 per month. Price for a few days only, $3500; $5000 can remain as mortgage. (64)

AN ideal cottage of 6 rooms and high attic (floored); within 1 block of the brand new high school at Molokos on high ground; street work, sewer and all modern improvements completed; electricity. The rear of lot (40x146) is a new 2-room portable house with shingle roof. It's certainly cozy. Only $3500; easy terms. Apply to Weil & Norris, 1st E. 12th st. (Exclusive agents).

WE have client who will build cottage to suit purchaser on a lot 50x126 on Fruitvale ave., opp. E. 27th st.; very easy terms.

PERKINS-BROOKLYN CO.,
NO. 1 TELEGRAPH AVE.

---

LOTS FOR SALE

A DESIRABLE lot—36x5; lot 40x125; on one of the best locations in East Oakland; street work and sidewalks all done; ready to build on; close to cars;
terms very easy. $32 E. 12th st.

FOR SALE—Cheap lots on San Pablo ave.: must be sold; $32 per front ft.;
close to station; parties going East.
Jamaica Hall, 6898 San Pablo ave., cor.
66th st.

FOR SALE.
Twenty lots in Elmhurst; price $2000.
LAYMAN REAL ESTATE COMPANY
460 8th street.

JACKSON st., lot, near 14th st., 40x130
ft.; must sell. Call on Mr. Day, 1229
Jackson, st.

---

BERKELEY REAL ESTATE,
BERKELEY Bargain—Five-room desirable cottage 1 1/2 stories; modern; convenient to street cars. Key Route and business center; best of street work and sidewalk; rooms large and comfortable; gas and electricity; sleeping porch with fine hill view; marine view;
good neighborhood; values increasing;
rental value, $35. Price, $3400; $3000 down balance monthly. (See $2320)
$1000 down balance monthly. Price
$3000 cash. Box 2265, Tribuna.

---

COUNTRY REAL ESTATE.

---

OWN A FARM

IN THE WORLD RENOWNED
SANTA MARIA VALLEY
SANTA BARBARA CO. CAL.
The Richest Soil, Best Climate and Most Abundant Water
Beans, Beets, Alfalfa, Corn, Barley, Wheat and Vegetables bear very profitably.

In 100-Acre Subdivisions on Easy Payments
One-Fifth Cash

Balance of purchase price in installments, 5 per cent.

For data and maps address J. C. Arnold, 2432 Oregon st., Berkeley.

---

FOR SALE—A bearing vineyard of grafted vine, 7 acres, near Rutherford.
Napa valley. F. P. Barratt, 1189
Regent st., Alameda.

FOR SALE—6-acre poultry ranches; also 20 acres improved. 10 acres in bearing almonds, rich and level; near town on 2 R. R. P. O. box 733, Livermore, Cal.

FREE stereoscopic lecture by Hal Wood, representing Colusa and Glenn counties, under the Great Central Canal, daily at 7:30 p. m. California Board of Trade, Ferry bldg.

SOUND, SAFE INVESTMENT.

The Cat in The Crackers

and the grocer who owns the cat are in themselves naughtiness, out the unsanitary grocery store indicated by the one and conducted by the other is a public menace. Do you know your grocer? Are his cracker barrels open to the dirt and dust? Have you ever been behind his counter or into his back room? Do you know how to buy really clean food? Do you want to?

In a series of editorial articles—the result of wide investigation—Woman's Home Companion will tell you, and help you in this most vital, three-times-a-day problem. The first article is in the November number—a notable magazine, containing seven short stories, ten special articles of interest to women, fifty pages of practical departments—and much more, all in the November

WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION

WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION
is woman's home companion in 600,000 homes
One Dollar will make it so in yours. Address
MADISON SQUARE, NEW YORK CITY
Ten Cents on All Newsstands

The advertisements in Everybody's Magazine are indexed. Turn to page 2.

This Homely Cat

received more votes than any other advertisement in the November issue of Everybody's Magazine as the most effective advertisement in that number—because of its beauty?—No!
Because the advertisement, itself, told of a real evil that affects you and your family three times a day—the dirty grocery store. How about your grocer? Are his bins clean?
Wouldn't you like to know how to buy really clean food and save money at the same time? If you do care about preserving the family health and stretching the family purse, you will read the most important article to be found on this subject—"Why is the Clean Grocer Clean?" in the February

WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION

Woman's Home Companion
is woman's home companion in 600,000 homes. One Dollar will make it so in yours. Address MADISON SQUARE, NEW YORK CITY

10c On All News-stands